Algerian Rebels Agree To Cease-Fire Talks

First Break In Long War

TUNIS, Tunisia (UPI) — Algerian rebels today accepted President Charles de Gaulle's offer to negotiate an end to years of costly warfare.

A communique issued by the rebel Algerian provisional government said Premier Ferhat Abbas personally would lead a peace delegation to Paris.

The statement, replying to a peace appeal issued by de Gaulle last week, stressed the rebels still were dissatisfied with certain aspects of his pledge of self-determination for Algeria.

Nevertheless, the positive reply appeared to spell the first major break in a war that numerous times has left France tottering on the edge of political, economic and social collapse.

In Paris, official sources said de Gaulle had been informed beforehand of the contents of the rebel reply and considered it "not negative." It currently is under study, the sources said.

SEND REPRESENTATIVE

The rebel group (FLN) did not indicate when the delegation would leave for Paris, but said it would send a representative there beforehand to arrange the details.

The acceptance was certain to touch off a strong reaction among French right-wing extremists, who fear that any reconciliation between de Gaulle and the rebels will end in losing Algeria to the control of the Moslem majority.

These factions, led by former Gaullist minister Jacques Soustelle, were meeting at Vincennes, France, today on their next move to "keep Algeria French."

Some reports said they might go so far as to proclaim a separate government for Algeria in the event the rebels agreed to open negotiations with de Gaulle.

De Gaulle's peace program for Algeria, announced soon after he took control in France, includes a promise to allow the residents of that territory to determine their own political status by referendum after the rebels give up their arms.

His last appeal to the rebels for negotiation limited the subject matter to a cease fire. He continued to resist FLN demands that Abbas and his aides be recognized as lawful spokesmen for Algeria's Moslems on the political bargaining to follow a cease fire.

U.K. Hails Decision

LONDON (AP) — Britain today officially hailed the decision of the Algerian rebel leadership to accept President de Gaulle's offer of ceasefire talks.

The foreign office also reaffirmed Britain's backing of de Gaulle's September, 1959, principles for an Algerian settlement based on self-determination.

Up to this morning, Abbas — himself under pressure from extremists with the FLN — had refused de Gaulle's overtures on grounds they would add up to a rebel "surrender."

Tension Grips Settlers

ALGIERS (Reuters) — French troops were drafted into the big cities of Algeria, today as tension rose among right-wing settlers following acceptance by rebel leaders of an invitation to Paris to discuss ways of ending their 5½-year-old war.

The troops were ordered in from rural garrisons and a temporary ban was imposed on all political meetings.

The order was issued by Paul Delouvrier, French delegate-general and President de Gaulle's chief official in Algeria.

It came as troops patrolled the streets of Algiers and police guards were reinforced at all public buildings to combat possible settler demonstrations against the talks with Moslem insurgents.

Bankruptcy Under Study

WINNIPEG (CP) — Federal bankruptcy legislation is being reviewed by the justice department, Justice Minister Fulton said today.

He said there have been a number of complaints to the government that the act favors the debtor, that delays allow debtors to avoid their commitments, and that bankruptcy arrangements for small estates are open to "wide abuse."

In a speech to the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, Mr. Fulton said these and other questions are to be fully reviewed by his department.

YEGGS GET $250,000, MISS THAT MUCH MORE

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — An estimated $250,000 worth of cash and cheques was stolen from the vault of the state motor vehicles department early today.

Although they looted about a dozen cash lockers in the vault, the thieves did not get into the main safe, which contained more than $250,000. There was no evidence that they had tried.

Careful Study Given to Mall

By JOHN MIKA

The View Street mall and car park project has had the most careful planning he has ever seen, Mayor Percy Scourrah said today.

He made the statement in a point-by-point reply to charges by ex-alderman Robert Macmillan Saturday that the project was "badly organized, badly timed and ill advised."

Answered the mayor: "On the contrary, in my long business experience I have never known a project to be so well thought out and carefully planned. And it is not the thinking of any one person."

"The plan is the result of a most careful study by our engineering department, the town planning commission, Dr. D. Jackson Faustman of Sacramento, who made our traffic survey, and Gordon Whitnall, recognized as one of the outstanding authorities on town planning in North America."

Peter W. M. Graham, 35-year-old president of Family Finance Corporation and Vancouver Vending Services Limited, and son of financier F. Ronald Graham, said the application has been filed with Lamar Hunt of Dallas, Tex., president of the AFL.

Graham, who would not name other members of the group, said the application will be considered by the AFL group at its next meeting in July. A $125,000 performance bond was filed with the application to guarantee that the club will complete its first year in the league.

He added that the team would play its home games at Empire Stadium, now home of British Columbia Lions.

'Colonial Terror' Charged

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (Reuters) — Portugal was accused at today's session of the conference of independent African states of carrying out in its African colonies "a reign of terror, wholesale massacres and slavery unchanged from ancient times."

Jose Gilmore, delegate of the Union of Populations in Portuguese Angola, called on the conference to examine Portuguese colonialism. He accused Portuguese officials of fostering forced labor in its most brutal form.

"Semi-official statistics for 1957 put the number of workers at 700,000, including men, women and children from seven to 70 years," he said. He described Portuguese colonialism as "fascism in its most accelerated form" and "the most inhuman type of racialism."

The barrage triggered a counter-assault from the Nationalist garrison, which pounded the Red gun positions a few miles away to ease pressure on Quemoy.

'We Won't Waste Aid' Koreans Promise Ike

SEOUL (AP) — President Eisenhower left South Korea for Honolulu tonight, completing a Far Eastern tour cut short by rioting in Japan.

Eisenhower left with a pledge from South Korea's reform government to guard against wasting the hundreds of millions of dollars in aid the United States pours in each year.

"I pledge that we will do everything possible to ensure that American aid funds are wisely, efficiently and honestly used for the benefit of all of the Korean people," Premier Huh Chung declared in his parting words to Eisenhower at Seoul international airport.

The only anti-American demonstration Eisenhower actually saw was on Okinawa, Sunday.

SNAKE DANCE

Snake-dancing Okinawans chanted "Go home, go home" and waved Japanese flags during his two-hour visit.

They carried placards reading "You were never invited here," "United States imperialism get out of Japan without delay" and "Do away with hydrogen bombs."

The demonstrators were part of a movement that urged return of the Ryukyu Islands, of which Okinawa is the main one, to Japan.

Eisenhower urged leaders of the new South Korean government to make the most of their opportunity to give the Communist-threatened land true democracy. Referring to the revolt against Syngman Rhee, he said "prompt and judicious fulfillment of the recently expressed wishes of the Korean people is a momentous challenge."

Eisenhower is expected to spend three or four days in Hawaii before continuing home to Washington.

Anti-Semite Arson?

ORILLIA, Ont. (UPI) — Ontario fire marshal's office inspectors today investigated a fire that destroyed a Jewish camp on Lake Couchiching Saturday. Officials said it may have been touched off as a result of anti-Semitism.

'REPUBLIC OF CANADA'

Her Majesty's Subjects Not Amused by Ike's Goof

NEW YORK (CP) — The New York Times reports there were several frosty moments at the White House dinner for Prime Minister Diefenbaker when he was visiting President Eisenhower earlier this month.

Under a stock heading "Random Notes in Washington," a weekly collection of stories in lighter vein from the capital, The Times reveals:

"When the dinner was being arranged, the Canadians hoped that some of their more distinguished citizens would be invited. They were told, however, that this was the president's evening to entertain members of the National Presbyterian Church, which he attends when in Washington."

"Mr. Diefenbaker, a Baptist, thus found himself surrounded most of the evening by desecrating Presbyterians. More serious was a slip by President Eisenhower. In giving the toast to Queen Elizabeth, the president referred to the 'republic of Canada.' He repeated the error in a second reference."

"Her Majesty's subjects from the Dominion of Canada were not amused."

Gales, Rain Lash 'Quake-Torn Chile

VALDIVIA, Chile (UPI) —

Earth loosened by a howling wind and rain storm in quake-devastated southern Chile thundered down the slopes overlooking Lake Panguipulli Sunday, carrying 18 persons to their deaths.

Reports from the scene, in the mountains 60-odd miles east of here, said the landslide carried a house into the lake and killed all of its occupants.

A few hours later, the worst earthquake of the month rocked Chile's disaster zone.

The new quake caused widespread panic and completed the destruction of many buildings damaged by last month's violent temblors, but no new casualties were reported.

The storm that lashed the Concepcion-Valdivia area Sunday was so violent that in some places it blew down walls left standing by the continual earth tremors of the past month.

Torrential rains halted work on the natural dam blocking the San Pedro River, where engineer troops are toiling to open spillways which will lessen or eliminate the threat of disastrous floods.

The head of water building up in the landslide-blocked river is expected to spill out later this week, perhaps sending a devastating wall of water surging down the San Pedro through Valdivia to the sea.

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

(Times News Service)

LONDON (AP)—There was a strange sound in the grain Tower of London: Guitars strumming out that gay old tune "It Must Be Jelly, 'Cause Jam Don't Shake Like That."

The patrol of the Grenadier Guards dashed off toward the sound of the strumming to find the sentry in scarlet uniform and bearskin hat performing a duet with the young son of another guard.

The sentry's fame for ever obscured behind regulations — was marched off on charges of irregular conduct and ordered to do extra duty and have his privileges reduced.

WASHINGTON — Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), Sunday gave this definition of an isolationist:

"A fellow who claims that most of our troubles stem from the fact that America was discovered by a foreigner."

MEXICO CITY — Delayed reports from the village of Rodriguez, Puebla say the government census taker there was shot and killed while asking questions of a village resident.

HONITON, Eng. — Volunteer fireman Eddie Marks was enjoying a pint of beer in the bar of the New Dolphin Hotel here when the town's fire siren sounded.

Marks ran half a mile to the fire station. When he got there the engine had left — for the New Dolphin. The fire, a minor outbreak, was in the hotel kitchen.

PORT CARLING, Ont. — Liquor advertising was described by a United Church minister Sunday as "a form of cannibalism."

In a closing sermon at the eighth national conference of men of the United Church of Canada, Rev. Robert J. D. Morris of Edmonton recalled counting six full-page liquor advertisements in a magazine which reported highway death figures indicating that drinking contributed to one road fatality every hour in the United States.

He said such advertisements are a form of evil which means "we are using the lives of our neighbors . . . It feeds me at the expense of my neighbor's life."

JOHANNESBURG — The son of the late Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts said today he will boycott the opening of a building dedicated to his father because External Affairs Minister Eric Louw will be the main speaker.

PARIS — Lawyers for novelist Francoise Sagan and her husband, Guy Schoeller, presented divorce petitions to Judge Rene Drouillard at a brief hearing today.

Neither Miss Sagan nor Schoeller, a publisher, were present. Each is petitioning for divorce on the grounds of "serious insults."

At the time when the couple decided to seek divorce Miss Sagan told reporters that her love of night life and her husband's passion for early morning horseback rides contributed to the break-up.

David Wong, of Victoria, was arrested on the weekend at his Saanich home and charged in connection with the beating and attempted robbery last Thursday of Lee Pung, 58, proprietor of the Tin Yin Club, Port Alberni.

He is the second Victorian arrested in the case and both were remanded to Wednesday for election on charges of breaking and entering with intent to steal at the Port Alberni club.

Gunnar Jacobson, about 30, appeared in Port Alberni RCMP court Thursday after his arrest on the heels of the alleged offence. Wong appeared in court Saturday, when bail was set at $7,500.

"Meter revenue cannot be considered a tax. A tax is something that all persons are compelled to pay.

"But nobody is compelled to use street meters and therefore it cannot in any way be considered a tax. Civic tax money is not involved in the View Street plan.

"In the considered opinion of both myself and the city council, this plan definitely will provide not only parking for the shopper but also pleasant surroundings in which to shop.

HAPPY TO PAY

"It is our opinion that they will be happy to pay for an hour's parking for their customers, using the View garage, the same as is done now by validation of parking tickets by merchants in the 700 Block Yates.

"We see no reason why the same will not be applicable to all people doing business on Douglas, Fort, Yates and View Streets.

The mayor also warned that development of shopping centres on the city's outskirts "poses a problem which must

Volunteers Adjust Well
To Bomb Shelter Living

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Thirty men, women and children are back home after a two-week stay in a 12 by 20-foot bomb shelter.

The volunteers walked out of experimental shelter Sunday and officials of the American Institute of Research, which conducted the test, were pleased with the results.

"Even in our most optimistic moment, we did not envision the high degree of adjustment and the scarcity of problems which actually occurred," said Dr. James W. Altman, project director.

The experiment was designed to test, psychologically and sociologically, human reaction to shelter conditions for the office of civil defence mobilization.

Mrs. Laura Ellis, 72, oldest of the volunteers, was conducting Sunday school services when the group was told to leave. Asked why she volunteered, the grandmother replied:

"I still have a lot of curiosity and I figure I might as well know what's going on."

MISSED PLAYING OUTSIDE. Marcia Mallinowski, 7, the youngest of the group, said: "I just missed playing outside."

Her father, Zygmunt, 49, took two weeks from his job to take part in the test with his wife and two children.

U.K. Reporter Dies

LONDON (CP)—Noel Monks, 52, top-flight Fleet Street reporter and one of Britain's best-known war correspondents, died suddenly Saturday.

The first thing 10-year-old Paul Marion Jr. said as he left the shelter was: "Where's my daddy?" Mrs. Marion, who had Paul Jr. and a daughter, Kathleen, with her, said:

"The first few days the children were under strain. Both of mine were homesick. Some nights then had tears in their eyes. But finally they got adjusted."

The group had no newspapers, television or radios with them. Games and cards offered the only recreation.

TOKYO (AP) — Some leaders here to legislation adjusting the Japanese constitution with a nation-wide strike Wednesday called by the Communist party joined the provisions in the new treaty. Some of its members were present at the signing ceremony. The socialist and other opposition groups have been Kishi's party demanded that he resign immediately and put off the exchange of treaty documents with the United States pending the outcome of new elections. ## DISCOUNT IN STORES DOESN'T BOTHER A-G

The "normal retail practice" of discounts is not illegal under the new trading stamp act, says Attorney-General Robert Bonner. Merchants who give customers "credits" or discounts are not violating the act, said Mr. Bonner. The act was aimed at eliminating "third parties"—or distributors of stamps and premiums, in many cases wholesaling the gifts. Presumably merchants could legally print and hand out stamps themselves. Mr. Bonner was queried this weekend after a Vancouver woman was given four stamps at a grocery. This was "just a way of giving customers a discount," said Mr. Bonner—"and it's perfectly legal."

LATE ARRIVAL IN OTTAWA

Rain 'Good Omen' For Russian Group

OTTAWA (CP) — A delegation from Moscow motored into Ottawa Sunday determined to see sunshine through storm clouds. The visiting members of the Russian capital's working people's executive committee—city council—refused to fret about the jumbled program that got them into the Canadian capital eight hours late after a 120-mile limousine ride from Montreal. The group's interpreter, Mrs. Lyubov Ivanovna Shaverneva, rationalized the travel troubles this way: "When we left Moscow it was raining. In Ottawa it was raining even harder. We should be thankful because this is a very good omen. When the first part of a tour goes so badly it means the rest of it will go very well." Omens or not, the Canadian hosts spent most of Sunday wondering what had become of the eight-member Soviet delegation, scheduled to land at Uplands airport shortly after noon. Until 3 p.m., the most that could be learned from Soviet embassy officials was that they "suspected" Mayor Nikolai Ivanovich Bobrovnikov and five male and two female associates would arrive in Montreal later in the afternoon via Air France. DIRECT APPROACH Mayor George Nelms decided on the direct approach and selected city publicity director Gerry Geldert to "find them and get them here." ## CRITICIZES EICHMANN SEIZURE

Jew Makes Offer To Defend Nazi

LONDON (AP) — A Jew who lost all his relatives in Nazi concentration camps wants to defend Adolf Eichmann because he disapproves of the way the former Nazi colonel was arrested, says The Empire News. The newspaper identifies him as Dr. Paul Szekely, 54, once a well-known Czech lawyer and now a naturalized Briton. Szekely is in Yugoslavia, negotiating with Israeli judicial officials, the paper reports.

Eichmann, accused of complicity in the killing of 6,000,000 Jews, was captured by Israeli agents in Argentina and spirited to Israel by air. "Some of my relatives were killed on direct orders from Eichmann," Szekely is quoted as saying. "But if I am allowed to defend him I will do everything in my power to make sure he receives a fair trial." The paper says he agrees there's strong evidence against Eichmann, but he believes some of it would not stand up as proof in an impartial court.

Health Insurance

IT IS PREMATURE TO PROnounce on Saskatchewan's medical scheme until it has moved out of election politics into some concrete form. So far we know only that Premier Douglas interprets 41 per cent of the popular vote as a mandate to provide a scheme of some sort, but the public has not been told (if Mr. Douglas knows himself) how the scheme will work, what it will cost or how it will be paid for.

As in the case of hospital insurance, however, Saskatchewan will provide a useful clinic on what is not a provincial but a national problem. British Columbia and other provinces would be wise to watch Saskatchewan's experience, and learn by its inevitable mistakes in such an unexplored, experimental area, before they plunge into it.

One might suppose, from the statements of Mr. Douglas, and Mr.
Strachan in British Columbia, that no Canadians were now covered by medical insurance. Actually a large part of the population is covered by various privately-managed schemes that are efficient, economical and altogether satisfactory to the participants.

It would be the height of folly to destroy these schemes overnight in favor of a state scheme which, we may be sure, will prove far more expensive.

The real problem is to assure adequate medical service for that part of the population which for financial and other reasons, does not, or cannot, participate in the excellent private schemes.

Surely it is possible to extend the present private schemes and confine the state's assistance to the area where it may be needed.

Above all, it is essential to maintain the quality of medical service and the free, personal relationship between doctor and patient.

Assuredly no progress will be made if medicine is regarded as a merely financial process or mass-production system when it is in fact a delicate scheme, depending primarily on the skill of doctors.

Without their full co-operation medical treatment, however financed, cannot succeed. It would be unwise, unjust and probably impossible to coerce this profession or to level its rewards, regardless of the individual practitioner's abilities. Most important of all, the patient's right of free choice between doctors must be preserved.

Mr. Douglas says that all these objectives will be protected under his insurance scheme but he does not say how. He does not know and cannot know without practical experience and a period of trial what his scheme will cost but certainly it will cost more than the original estimates. This has happened in hospital insurance and it is bound to happen in all state enterprises underwritten by the public purse.

It will be interesting to see,
therefore, how the Douglas Government intends to prevent, or at least discourage, the abuse of its insurance system. These and other valuable lessons will be learned in Saskatchewan during the next year or two and in British Columbia we should follow them with an open mind.

The Senate Goes to Work

THE CANADIAN SENATE IS taking its investigation of unemployment very seriously. Most people probably imagined the Senate, which never overworks itself, would conduct a leisurely, academic study, adding little to our knowledge of a grave national problem. Instead, it has gone energetically to work and intends to investigate the cause of unemployment from the bottom.

The best guarantee that the work will be well done is the appointment of Professor John Deutsch as its director. This ablest of Canadian economists, now at Queen's University, is well known in the west, having been for some time dean of economics at the University of British Columbia. He is widely experienced in labor disputes and settled the great British Columbia lumber strike last September.

Above all, Professor Deutsch is not a theorist but a highly practical man with a peculiar ability to simplify complex problems. With his assistance in gathering the facts and putting them in order, the Senate ought to produce by the year's end the kind of report on unemployment which the House of Commons should have made long before now.

The Prize Optimist

THE MONTREAL STAR SUREly deserves a prize of some sort for its distinguished optimism. It says that Russia's threat to bomb any base used by American spy planes is "obvious propaganda" which "can hardly be taken seriously." Indeed, The Star doubts that "any such sweeping order has been issued. It doesn't make sense."

Perhaps it doesn't but it must be taken seriously just the same. For actual bombing of foreign bases is not required to produce the effects desired in Moscow. The threat alone can be exceedingly useful to the Communists.

The Star lightly dismisses that threat but it spoke before the present troubles in Japan. Though they are the work of a small minority, it is clear that the Japanese people as a whole have been deeply alarmed by the possibility of their bases being used by American spy planes.

The U-2 affair proved to be a handy weapon for the native Communists. And if Russia's threat is not to be taken seriously why has the United States canceled all spy flights? Despite the optimistic Star, there is only one way to take any Russian threat—seriously. Then to prepare accordingly.

THE VOLUNTARY CAPTIVES

The Silent World-Wide Invasion Proceeds

By B. A. TOBIN

CANADIANS are so Americanized that they don't really recognize Americanization any more. It came on so gradually and so thoroughly that we didn't notice. It was almost inevitable, of course, with the neighbor population being ten times as large as ours. Today, we have to stop a moment to remember in what ways we differ from the Americans.

Tobin

We have to remember our British heritage (which they have, too, of course) and our French ingredient (which they, too, have in a small degree) and personal things like our English reserve (fast dwindling), our slightly differing political and legal systems, and so on.

Two-Too Many?

But the intangible differences are becoming harder and harder to distinguish. Will they disappear entirely?
Could we stand being a little America next to a big America? Could the world stand it?

While we absorb American culture like foster-mother's milk—the Glamour myth, the Good Life ideal, the Sick Humor ideology, the Organization Man complex, the Spectator Sport theory, the Hero and Heroine system, Teen-Age fadism, Rock 'n' Roll escapism and all the other manifestations of United States development—while we absorb all these, hardly noticing the process, other countries are discovering and adopting them with deliberate and enthusiastic intent.

Thus in Japan—which has been forced with American culture it ever a country was—baseball, American slang, women's skirt lengths, chewing gum, pop and hot dogs, hair-dos, movie idols and all the other surface glitz of the great American Dream have been grabbed and imitated.

Inevitably, Japanese culture must have suffered. The age-old and beautiful customs, the product of centuries rather than of passing Hollywood or Madison Avenue whims, have been pushed aside by the younger generation as they eagerly seize on the least of all the things the United States has to give them.

Deeper Change

The change may not always be represented in material adoptions, as when Kabuki audiences decrease while movie audiences grow. It may be seen less plainly in altered ideals and objectives.

One English writer mentions that in Japan today, "the urge to 'keep up with the Joneses'—which never existed in pre-war Japan—is increasingly in evidence." And he adds: "Perhaps most psychologically important of all, the Japanese people plainly expect the process of 'modernizing' the social life of the nation to continue."

In history, perhaps only the waves of Greek and Roman culture in the wake of the respective armies have effected so obvious a change in any people. And it is typical of the modern world that the process, in the case of Japan, took less than two decades.

But while a British writer writes about Japan, the same metamorphosis is going on in his own country.

An American TV critic observes that Britain today is out-Hollywooding Hollywood with comedy pictures. He claims that "the best American comedy to be found anywhere these days is being turned out by the British."

But the American Approach, the American Manner, is not being turned out, it is being dragged in, admired, and accepted for use.

Admittedly there is a strong bulwark there, a steady defence against foreign encroachment that may be found in the established customs of the sea-girt isle.
But "popular" music, movies, the resident American-armed forces, the radio and TV cult and other strong influences are being felt.

The same appears to be true, to perhaps a lesser extent as yet, in Europe.
Paris, reportedly, is Americanized in depth, and even the French language is under attack. Rome will feel this summer's trans-Atlantic invasion for fully a year, perhaps even more than the rougher one nearly twenty years ago.
Even Moscow has its American jazz adherents, gum chewers and duck-tail haircuts.

The strength of the movement seems to lie in a widespread belief that the zippy, jazzy, sophisticated air from the United States is the newest, biggest, best thing. When you have it you're in the front of the parade, you're hep, you're forging ahead, you're a cut above the square who clings to the old-fashioned way.

Saving the Discard

What the poor foreigners don't know is that this slick, up-beat culture is the skim off the top of the boiling pot that is American civilization. It's the part they ought to throw away, while they spoon deeper into the real broth of the American Belief. But they think it's the essence.

Meanwhile, insofar as they turn their backs on their own traditions and ways, their folk dances and music, their basic amenities, they are losing rather than gaining. They're discarding gold because the brass looks shinier. Some day, when the United States isn't minting brass any more, they may be stuck with it.

And, of course, for "they" you can read "we" throughout.

The Point May Be a Small One

DR. FRANK BUCHMAN is the initiator and leading figure of Moral Rearmament—a movement which places a great and proper emphasis on absolute honesty. Recently, to mark the opening of world assemblies at Caux and Mackinac Island, Dr. Buchman made a broadcast.

This has received wide publicity, both through the publication of pamphlets reprinting its text and through paid advertisements in newspapers. It begins in this way:

"There is a hurricane of common sense sweeping through the world. A Hurricane of Common Sense—that was the headline in a newspaper read by the leaders of Washington. It refers to the manifesto 'Ideology and Co-existence' which in the past six months has gone to 73,000,000 homes."

Manchester Guardian Weekly

The identity of the newspaper may be of some interest. We began by assuming, since it was read by the leading men of Washington, that it must be the Washington Post, the New York Times, or the Herald Tribune. But no, it was none of these.

Could it then be the Washington Star, the Sun of Baltimore, one of the Philadelphia papers, or the Richmond Times-Dispatch? No, again: it was none of these.

On inquiry it turned out to be the Bethesda-Chevy Chase Advertiser. This is not a newspaper in the normal sense.
It is a weekly, given away free, and almost all its content is advertising.

It contains a column by its publisher,
Mr. Paulin, under the pseudonym
"Tarpaulin".

The headline quoted by Mr. Buch-man appeared above this column on March 31. The Bethesda-Chevy Chase Advertiser may, of course, be read by leading men in Washington; we do not know, having never heard of it before.

If, however, one looks at the list of cabinet members, only two of the eleven live in the Bethesda-Chevy Chase area.
(The Labor Secretary, Mr. Mitchell, does not give his address.) The point may be a small one, coming at the beginning of a broadcast in which Dr.
Buchman deals with great matters. In any event, it is one on which individuals will want to form their own conclusions.

What Our Correspondents Think About Victoria's Downtown Parking and Mall Plan

Used With Success

In a recent edition of your paper,
I read with interest a letter from Mr. J.
H. Beatty, of 1009 Terrace Avenue, in which he appeared authoritatively to criticize the proposed Downtown Improvement Plan. While criticism is always welcomed, I feel I must point out that most of the statements made in this letter were non-factual and some were half truths that could only mislead.
I would therefore greatly appreciate the opportunity of dealing, one by one, with the points he made:

(a) While Mr. Beatty claims surprise by the lack of discussion on the plan, you will be aware that this matter has been the subject of over fifty public meetings and has been discussed very thoroughly at numerous council meetings which have been fully reported. Indeed, I recall the presence of Mr. Beatty at one such meeting.

(b) Mr. Beatty likens the Downtown Improvement Plan to the grain elevator, the woolen mills, etc. While I fully agree that those experiments of long past years proved to be unsuccessful, there is little resemblance between such problematic incursions into industry, and the Downtown Improvement Plan, which latter is intended to improve the traffic congestion downtown and is thus a normal function of the City Council.

While the entire scheme was initiated and designed at the City Hall, it has since been independently reviewed by a number of highly qualified consultants in the field and has been unanimously acclaimed by them in all respects.

(c) Mr. Beatty appears to have missed the point that the prime object of the Downtown Improvement Plan is to provide parking and to remove traffic congestion, only part of which will be accomplished by the Malls. Experiments in Malls alone are entirely a matter of testing their effect on business, and not as a device to improve traffic conditions.

Wherever Malls have been integrated with properly located parking facilities, they have proved to be extremely successful on all counts.

(d) In respect of the financial feasibility of the scheme, you will recall that this was one of the questions put by council to Dr. Faustman to review and that he reported that not only was it feasible, but that the method was one that had been used in many cities with success.

(e) If the traffic problem could be solved simply by permitting left turns on Douglas Street, this would have been done long ago. In fact, left turns across opposing traffic are the greatest single cause of traffic congestion. This would not be solved by painting more lanes.

(f) Mr. Beatty quotes City Hall as indicating that sixty business licences have been cancelled so far this year, and wonders whether the increased meter charges will result in further can-cancellations. The facts are that in the early part of any year there are always a number of changes. This year the number of cancellations to May was 57 and the number of new businesses was 52. Mr. Beatty neglected to mention the offsetting new businesses or to indicate that the normal trend over the latter part of any year is for an over-all increase.

That this is true, even to date, is evidenced by the fact that the total rental value of city businesses is today considerably higher than it was this time last year. It should also be noted that the experience of other cities is that increasing the parking meter rate has not been detrimental to business, and that the proposed rate in Victoria is one that has been the normal rate elsewhere for years.

(g) I would hazard the guess that Mr. Beatty's suggestion that all downtown business should be compelled to provide off-street parking would be the best way to ensure both the maximum reduction in the assessment roll (by removal of existing buildings) and the maximum incidence of bankruptcy. Nor would such a policy be of encouragement to the redevelopment into business premises of some of our older buildings.

GEORGE I. EDGELOW,
Alderman, Chairman Public Works Committee, City Hall.

Like Fluoridation?

The letter by J. H. Beatty was a very good one and should make our taxpayers realize how this parking mall deal would affect their taxes. If the idea was sound the city would not be asked to build it. It would be done by private interests. So here's hoping the taxpayers put it in the same place as fluoridation.

C. E. STROUD,
1269 Pembroke St.

Farther East

In November, 1958, I wrote City Council protesting against the proposed mall and parking building in the 700 block on View Street, as I felt that if such a parking building was really needed that it should be erected just east of the YMCA thus having access and egress to Blanshard and Quadra.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"OH! GET YOUR OL' UMBRELLA OUTA MY EAR!"

From Our Files

June 20, 1900 —
Ottawa: Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere will be the next lieutenant-governor. If Lieutenant-Governor McInnes does not resign, which he has refused to do, he will be removed.

June 20, 1920 —
Victoria mill operators will inform city council that strict enforcement of the smoke nuisance bylaw will mean closing of a number of mills
in the city.

June 20, 1940 —
New York: Two explosions by bombs occurred within an hour today, one in a German banking firm and the other in offices of the Communist party.

especially in view of the proposed Court House, Land Registry Office, City Hall, etc., being erected between Blanshard and Quadra.

I pointed out that land prices just east of the YMCA should only be half as much, and that Blanshard would distribute traffic to Broughton-Fort Yates
(the Court House, Auditorium, theatres, etc.) Without the heavy expense of providing arcades through from View to Yates and Fort and demolishing and rebuilding stores. Furthermore that car access and egress to and from the proposed building in the 700 block off Blanshard would cause needless congestion at View and Blanshard in rush hours.

A cul-de-sac mall and parking building would be a fire hazard and a perfect place for hoodlums unless policed and supervised at needless expense and if a mall were needed the entire 700 block on View could be used and beautified with shrubbery, seats, etc.

Mayor Scurrah is reported as claiming that "no city property holder will pay an additional cent in taxes because of this project." If that is the case who will pay this million or more in cost?

He also reminds us that the property owners previously voted in favor of this project, but that was before Eaton's and Hudson's Bay had announced the erection of their additional parking projects.
I am a property owner in various parts of downtown Victoria and have just received a heavy increase in both assessment and taxation within a block of the proposed mall and parking building.
Such increases passed on to the tenants and in turn to the consumers plus doubling the parking meter fees will definitely hurt downtown merchants.

Eaton's and Hudson's Bay are definitely taking care of their customers' parking requirements but there are more stores vacant in the vicinity of the Bay and the new city parking lot (old market building) than in any downtown location. This proves that vicinity parking without competitive prices will not keep merchants in business.

Odd Doings

IN all the complexities of the endless defence debate at least one conclusion seems established. That venerable old war horse Thin Red Line has out-stayed that flashy young colt Blue Streak as an effective demonstrator of national retaliatory power.

It is therefore fair to suppose that foreign agents who are keeping up to the mark about our conventional forces will not likely have missed (eyes glinting behind blue spectacles) those somewhat sinister manoeuvres on Horse Guards Parade on Saturday disguised under the nom de guerre of trooping the color.

There are clearly good grounds for foreign suspicion. Any microphone concealed in adjacent trees must have registered the fact that the words of command which deploy this flower of infantry, this magnificently blooming scarlet runner of Guardsmen, are quite unintelligible to outsiders. The code in use might take foreign cipher men some time to break.

No Fainting

The pretence of peaceful pursuits is cunningly maintained throughout.
Mounted officers, boldly breastplated, flourish their sabres to the tune of "Dye Ken John Peel." "Who's Your Lady Friend?" and other bourgeois folk lyrics.

The Guardsmen themselves equipped with apparently non-nuclear small arms and bayonets—and there were even a pair of well-polished battle axes on view —have been known to faint on previous occasions, though not in Saturday's stimulatingly breezy weather, no doubt as a way of feigning inner softness to those who might have a professional interest in their stamina. This weakness should be regarded as illusory.

Other warriors are armed with tubas, bagpipes, fife and drums, military equipment so patently out of tune with the times that they must clearly contain some secret armaments, not yet available to spies. If one may say so with respect, foreign agents on tour would be well advised to report fully on the whole affair.

Filling Station

An American tourist stood at the end of the Strand, open-mouthed in an astonishment that had more than a touch of plain fear. He had heard about the mad English but, like so many others, did not really expect them to play up to their reputation. Now he knew better.

What he was goggling at was the oblong stone horse-trough outside the west door of St. Clement Dane's inscribed with Victorian grandeur by its donors, the Metropolitan Drinking Fountain and Cattle Trough Association.

Parked cars and motorcycles—so hemmed in its island site that, from the roadway, a thin cat could scarcely have squeezed between them. Yet the trough was supplied with clear, appetizing-looking water at its traditional two levels, a high level for tall cattle and a low one for short. No filling station was ever so stately, so free, so utterly unattainable.

Troughs Still Used

He had heard tales, this alarmed visitor, and being a man of imagination from the Truman Capote country he doubtless proceeded to fill in the gaps.

Does a small, ageless man in the livery of the Metropolitan Drinking Fountain and Cattle Trough Association set out at dawn every morning on a powerful low-gear Victorian tricycle, equipped with two large storage canteens to replenish his tall cattle with which
—and there are quite a number of them
—in central London?

The truth is a little reassuring though still magical in its way. The troughs, they say at the association's headquarters in Victoria Street, are still used by their traditional customers in the very early hours, when the cattle on their way to the markets take over from the Cadillacs and bubble cars.

The tourists, if they want to restore their nerves, should set their travelling alarm clocks for about 4 a.m. and see what happens in rural Central London then.

Furthermore by blocking off a street
(as per the one way experiment of 600 block Fort Street), more traffic is diverted to the remaining streets thus causing worse traffic congestion than existed previously.

I agree with Mr. McMillan, Mr.
Beatty and "a hard core of the retail merchants" that we should experiment as other towns are doing by closing off parts of streets temporarily before jumping into a possible million dollar blunder with continuing headaches.

The move to place shrubs and flowers along the edges of city sidewalks with the odd seats interspersed between as has been done in Hollywood Beach, Florida, would alone make the downtown street much more attractive to shoppers and if a company such as Woodwards would yet become interested in erecting a department store with combined parking in the 800 block on Yates Street, it would bring more people into town to shop than any proposed million dollar mall and parking building.

In conclusion I feel that the parking situation downtown is not serious enough yet to warrant the million dollar expense which would only benefit a couple of city blocks, if at all.

C. N. MONTAGUE, 1531 Despard Avenue.

Give It a Lift

Property owners should carefully consider what would happen to their tax bills if the downtown section of Victoria deteriorates and cannot carry its fair share of the city tax load. The deficit would have to be made up by the homeowners who are having enough to do to keep up with today's taxes. So a lift for downtown Victoria such as the proposed parking mall should receive the enthusiastic support of all property owners on Thursday next.

(Parenthetically, the comfort station to be included in the mall is something needed by tourists in a strange city, as well as local residents.)

MRS. EVELYN MACKENZIE, 121 Menzies Street.

Mixed Impressions

PARIS. Our feet are killing us. We've walked around Paris morning, afternoon and evening, standing at the times you're supposed to stand at the times at leisure.

We've seen the star which is the Place d'Etoile from the top of the Arc de Triomphe, have honored the eternal flame which burns at its base in memory of the Unknown Soldier. We've walked through the gardens of the Tuileries, wondering why they don't cut the grass in this country if they don't. We've visited the Luxembourg Gardens and found them lovely with these fountains. We've sauntered around the Ile de Paris, admired Notre Dame, rummaged among the book stalls on the Left Bank, passed through the Sorbonne in three and one-half minutes, which must be a record of some sort. We've gone beyond the Eiffel Tower along the Champs de Mars toward the College Militaire. We've gazed at Les Invalides. We've circled the Louvre. We've looked up at the huge column centering the place Vendôme and we've wandered through the Place de la Concorde.

That and a dozen other excursions, some major and some minor, have worn us down to the ankles, and we figure we've seen very little of Paris.

Stott

We've seen enough though, to form very mixed impressions. By night, on a foot-savvy bus tour, we've been delighted with the lights and the play of water in fountains at the Place de la Concorde. We've enjoyed the glitter of the spots in Montmartre, been struck by the beauty of the illuminations given so many of the fine old buildings that look incredibly grubby in the daytime.

And we've been struck by the way this city knicks itself out in a relatively cheerful and successful effort to separate the tourist from his dollar. They do that in Rome, also, but not quite so vigorously.

Generally speaking there seems to be two types of people who come to Paris. They come because of a preconceived notion that they'll love the place and the infatuation deepens with their visit. Or they arrive a little skeptical about the town and notice how quick its natives are to take your francs, how willing they are to convert travellers' cheques into French currency and how happily they separate the tourist from the conversion.

DUTY-FREE SHOP OPENS

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (CP)—The first duty-free shop in Canada opened Friday to a steady stream of tourists on Hill Island. The duty-free shop permits an American visitor to purchase an article from a display. He pays for it, and receives a purchase slip, which is presented to the U.S. customs for declaration of goods to follow. Later the article is shipped to the person's home direct from a bonded warehouse here.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Add Wee Touch Of Originality

Always something new of a double trumpet, or bell, turns up at the flower shows. Over the weekend at the Crystal Garden of the Victoria Horticultural Society brought in a twig of shrub to be identified.

Since I was not familiar with it, the reference books were brought into use to trace clues which various other show visitors contributed.

The shrub was finally and decisively identified as Calycanthus floridus, known in the eastern United States as the Carolina Allspice.

Growing to 10 feet and flowering during June, Calycanthus would add a note of originality to Victoria gardens. The flowers are a reddish-brown, appearing singly at the end of short twigs in the form

PUNGENT ODOR
The eastern name of allspice has been given the shrub on account of the pungent odor of the leaves and flowers. "Aromatic fragrance" are the descriptive words in one encyclopedia.

The shrub is hardy here, and prefers a sunny location in a good garden soil. I see no reason why Calycanthus should not be available at one or another of the local nurseries, and enquiries may discover it.

Asking for hard-to-get plants will frequently create sufficient demand for the growers to secure a stock, and from then on, the supply will find its way around.

There are dozens of plants in cultivation which could well be added to the gardens in this area, but they are not readily available because the demand is too small to warrant a stock being carried.

'Evil Book' Political Guide?

SHAWINIGAN, Que. (CP)—Liberal leader Jean Lesage said Sunday night Union Nationale propaganda for Wednesday's Quebec provincial election has derived its inspiration from "all the Machiavellian procedures put into practice by Communist and Masonic parties of Europe" since the beginning of the century.

Mr. Lesage said that on May 22, 1947, "a high percentage of the Union Nationale," whom he did not name, borrowed a book outlining the procedures from the library of the Quebec legislature. The book has never been returned, he told some 6,000 persons gathered at the arena in this city 75 miles northeast of Montreal.

It has been evident for several years, Mr. Lesage said, that the electoral propaganda of the Union Nationale proceeded according to a fixed and well designed plan, "offering similarities to the propaganda systems of certain totalitarian countries."

Russians Have Air Photos Of All Major U.S. Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI said the Russians' equipment of American agents, the spy plane had been sent over this country, the Russians have obtained aerial photos of dozens of major U.S. cities and vital areas.

Some of the photos were obtained through espionage, others legally, according to an FBI "black book" made public during the weekend by the Senate internal security subcommittee.

Senate investigators said Russian espionage activities documented in the report make the recent American U-2 spy plane incident "pale into insignificance."

The report said Soviet agents for three decades "have engaged in extensive espionage activities against the United States and through the years have procured a volume of information which would stagger the imagination."

The Soviets resorted to other means when they couldn't get aerial photos they wanted through commercial channels, the report said.

As an example, it cited the case of an assistant Soviet air attaché who offered $700 to a photographer to take photos of New York that were not commercially available.

The Downtown Improvement Plan will give you the finest city centre in the Northwest, at no increase in taxes. Under this scheme, the entire development is paid for out of parking revenue.

4% Pay Boost Awarded Pulp Workers

5 Island Mills In Settlement

VANCOUVER (CP)—A one-year agreement providing for a four per cent general wage increase has been reached between British Columbia's 10 primary pulp and paper mills and the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers (CLC).

Some 5,000 employees are involved.

Announcement of the settlement, in a joint statement Sunday by representatives of the companies and the union, came after more than two weeks of negotiations.

The statement said that in addition to the general wage increase, the agreement provides for a special adjustment of two cents an hour to certain mechanics, an improvement in vacation payment calculation, provision for a joint study of health and welfare provisions and other contractual changes.

The settlement brings the basic wage rates into a range of from $2.03 to $3.12 hourly, with the average hourly earnings—including fringe benefits—at $2.78.

Farmers Challenge Ruling by Steacy

PARKVILLE—The British Columbia Federation of Agriculture has challenged Agriculture Minister Steacy's ruling on a petition for controlled egg marketing in the Fraser Valley.

Directors, in session here, believe he has exceeded his authority under the British Columbia Natural Products Marketing Act.

The Western Poultry Federation has asked for a plebiscite among producers in the valley to determine whether they want controlled marketing.

Federation directors discussed the petition and expressed "deep concern" over the minister's interpretation of marketing legislation.

Officials indicated the drive through the draw fell short of their target, but further campaigning may make up the difference.

1,300 AT REGATTA

Thrills, Spills Despite Weather

LAKE COWICHAN—A majority of the 1,300 ticket holders ignored uncertain weather Sunday to witness thrilling events at the fifth annual Cowichan Lake power boat regatta at Ashburnham Beach, sponsored by the Lake Cowichan Kiwanis Club.

Rain drove scores of spectators away after the first two five-mile hydroplane heats but hundreds stayed to witness a thrilling final heat of the class "B" utility runabout when Dave Osborne, 23, of Port Alberni, was thrown into the lake. His craft stood on end.

The meet was sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association and took place on the beach between Mesachie Lake and Honeymoon Bay.

ROUGH WATER

Brad Clark, 21, of Vernon, a veteran of six seasons of hydroplane racing, piloted his Queen Bee over rough waters to win the Class D stock hydro. In second place was Bob Luke, 21, of Seattle. Third spot was taken by a 58-year-old veteran, C. A. Abney of Tacoma.

Clark's 40-horse power Mercury-powered hydro covered the two five-mile heats in 11 minutes. Third place winner of the first heat was Gordon Blake, 23, of Port Alberni. Blake's craft flipped after crossing the finish line. The mishap forced him out of the second round.

Three Victoria racing drivers took all the honors in the Class "B" utility runabout. Gordon Johnston, 23, of Victoria, chopped through the competition to win the event with a total time of 10 minutes, 57 seconds, and three-tenths of a second.

VICTORIANS

Barry Pearce, 17, of Victoria, won the first heat and had a time that gave him second place in the event. Dave Cameron, 17, of Victoria was third.

A new event, not sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association, called the junior local open event, was won by Ray Hutchinson, Youbou. Second place was taken by Richard Janzen of Youbou.

The souped-up class "B" racing hydroplane ended with a thrilling performance by Vince Laionde, 20, of Vancouver, who came out on top in his Lil' Gator. He defeated the first heat winner Ron Snow, 27, of Chilliwack. Snow took second place in the event. Lawrence Pever, 38, of Cultus Lake, was third.

Jack Butterworth, 42, of Port Alberni, won the 136 cubic inch inboard hydro hull event.

Ron Ruins Jack's Plan With Six Goals for Vics

Victoria 12, Nanaimo 11.
Ron Jack went out of his way to lose a blanket on Jack Bionda's prediction.

Bionda, leading the Inter-city Lacrosse League's individual scoring race by a country mile, wasn't pleased when Victoria whipped Bionda's Nanaimo squad 13-7 at Memorial Arena last Wednesday.

"Don't bet," said Bionda, "that we'll have another bad game at Nanaimo Saturday. We'll win by five goals."

Saturday came and Bionda turned in a tremendous effort in an attempt to make his prediction stand up. He rapped in six goals and added an assist before 1,500 Nanaimo Civic Arena fans.

Jay, the former Ontario Junior Lacrosse Association scoring king, did even better and Victoria came from behind to grab a thrill-packed 12-11 victory away from the Hub City crew.

Jack, who has been playing some of his best lacrosse in the past three games, also fired six goals and made it a nine-point night by collecting three assists. He climaxed his fine performance by setting up Al Gill's winning goal with 75 seconds remaining.

Victory left Victoria a single point behind third-place Vancouver and the Vics are in position to step three points ahead of Vancouver in their next two games.

The Vics tackle Vancouver at Kerrisdale Arena Tuesday and the two clubs clash in a return battle at Memorial Arena Wednesday.

Playing the same aggressive, hustling game that marked last Wednesday's win, the Vics fully earned the exciting triumph in a game that was tied, no less than eight times.

Victoria was in front only twice before Gill drilled home the big tally.

The third period was highlighted by a fight between Nanaimo's Don Ashbee and Bob McKee. Angered when checked by McKee, Ashbee took after the Victoria forward with fists flying. Each received a minor and a major penalty.

With Bill Hartack aboard, Victoria Park finished five lengths ahead of C. V. Whitney's Tompon. The winning time for the 1 1/4-mile race was 1:47.25, three-fifths of a second faster than the record set by Stop And Look seven years ago.

C. Mahlon Kline's Conestoga was third. The time for the 1 1/4-mile run was 1:40.45. In Chicago, Run For Nurse, won the $47,450 Chicagoan at Washington Park.

Rockburn Farm's Recite scored a convincing two-length victory in the $23,100 Regret Handicap for fillies and mares at Monmouth Park in Oceanport, N.J.

WATER*

tells the truth about whisky

Now a distinguished new decanter for a distinguished Canadian Whisky.

WATER* (plain or sparkling) is your most reliable guide to the whole truth about any whisky. Water adds nothing, detracts nothing, but reveals a whisky's true natural flavour and bouquet. Put Seagram's "83" to the water test and you'll agree — to be that good with water, it must be a superb whisky and a more satisfying drink with any man's favourite mixer.

Poor accommodation, high prices, European competition and our own bad manners are scaring away U.S. tourists. But we need them. They are Canada's second biggest dollar-earner. Read how you are hit by this problem in this week's big Star Weekly, on sale now.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.
Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.
The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.
Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Ronnie Ballentine, aged 11, of Blythwood, S.C., for his question:

What Are Pelagic Animals?

The words pelagic and archipelago are related and both green meadows with plant and animal life.
Suddenly the shelves end in plunging cliffs, the steep sides of the deep ocean basins. Down here the water is suddenly anywhere from two to seven miles deep. All the sunlight is filtered out below 2,000 feet. The miles of water beneath this surface area have remained blacker than blackest midnight since the great oceans were formed.
The pelagic zone is the dimly lighted surface area above the black abyss. These waters teem with pelagic plants and pelagic animals.
There are living things deep in the midnight depths. Sometimes, especially at night, countless squid and rainbow colored sea worms come up from the dark depths to feed at the surface. Then they too join the throngs of pelagic animals.

Life in the oceans is so different from life on the land that we may find it hard to imagine this watery world. Poyoped fish from the abyssal ocean depths might be our idea of bugeyed monsters from outer space. Tentacled squids might be imaginary men from Mars.
We become used to the streamlined fish, the lobsters, the clams, oysters and starfish that live in our coastal waters. These waters are shallow, for the sea floor dips down gently as it leaves the land and reaches toward the deep ocean basins. These waters of the pelagic zone, like life on the land, follows a food chain. Small creatures feed on plant life, the tiny algae and diatoms that throng the sunlit waters. The green sea salad is mixed with shrimps, fish eggs and larva, baby crabs and barnacles. Herring and mackerel come to feed on the mixed salad. Sharks and tuna come to feed on the herring and mackerel.

Big Fish Eat Like Little Ones.

Life in the pelagic zone, like life on the land, follows a food chain. Small creatures feed on plant life, the tiny algae and diatoms that throng the sunlit waters. The green sea salad is mixed with shrimps, fish eggs and larva, baby crabs and barnacles. Herring and mackerel come to feed on the mixed salad. Sharks and tuna come to feed on the herring and mackerel.

The first and most vital link in the chain is the mixture of plants and tiny animals, a sea salad called plankton. This plankton food drifts with the currents and thrives with certain seasons. Bigger animals must go where it goes. In a cup of plankton-rich sea water there may be trillions of little animals and an equal number of little plants.

When a marine biologist refers to pelagic animals, he is most likely referring to these little plankton animals. However, larger creatures that live in or merely visit this zone may also be called pelagic animals.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Toni Vaga, age 11, of St. Catharines, Ont., for the question:

What are ultra violet rays?

Sunlight is just a part of the radiant energy which pours from the sun. It is a blend of the colored rays which travel on wave lengths which our eyes can see. The band of colors we can see are the colors of the rainbow. They run from the short wave blue rays to the long wave red rays.

Also coming from the sun are rays with wave lengths too short and others with wave lengths too long for our eyes to see. The invisible infra-red rays are somewhat longer than the red rays of the rainbow. The invisible ultra violet rays are somewhat shorter than the short blue rays of the rainbow.

Does Getting Up Nights Make You Feel Old? Thousands are now discovering how much stronger and better they can feel by combating ordinary kidney or bladder irritations. These irritations often occur after 35, and may make you tired and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Secondly, you may lose sleep and suffer from headaches, backache and feel old, tired, depressed, in such irritation. Cystex usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by curbing irritating acids in the stream, acid urine and by giving analgesic relief, safe for youth or old. Get Cystex at drugstore. Feel better fast.

Do FALSE TEETH Rock, Slide or Slip? PASTEX, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. PASTEX is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour Cheeks (plate odor). Get PASTEX at drug counters everywhere. Adv.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Gov. Rockefeller's Norwegian daughter-in-law, Stephen's bride, Anna Marie, is due at Presbyterian Hospital in about two weeks to give birth to one of the world's wealthier infants. The baby is expected just before the political conventions. What an opportunity for Rocky to do some "Page One" baby-kissing! How can Nixon reply to that? I predict that the baby will be a (are you ready?) Republican.

ANNE MARIE ... in two weeks.

"Ingemar Johansson's next fight may be with somebody tougher than Floyd Patterson—it may be with his fiancée, Brigid," a friend of Ingo's whispered to me. Ingo and Brigid have been furniture-shopping. Ingo seems set to sign up for a life-time bout: marriage. But a Hollywood glamor boy movie career's beckoning. Some advisers are asking, why doesn't he put it off till, say, 1961 or 1962? All my lady readers will understand Brigid's completely different point of view.

BRIGID ... life-time bout?

Madison Ave. keeps hearing that David Levy's been told to warm up to become network boss when Bob Kintner resigns as NBC president—as all NBC presidents eventually must. Kintner's been there a long time—so long he's been introduced to nearly half the vice-presidents he's appointed.

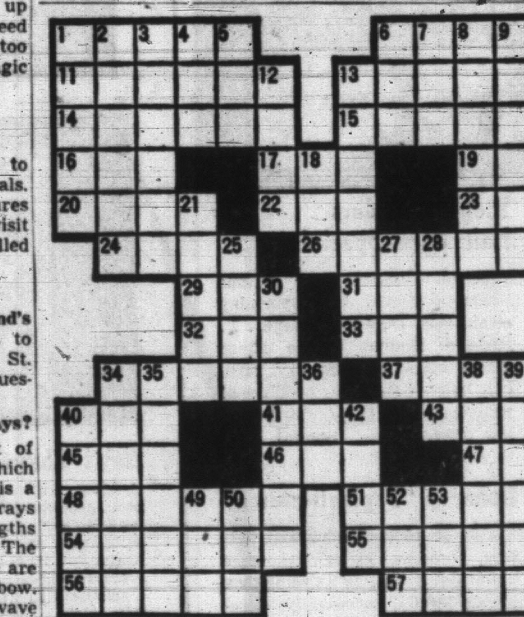

Glamour Gal Mary Castle, the Rita Hayworth look-alike, gave up movies to press agent for "New Orleans Kitchen" gourmet specialties... Lorri Scott of St. Louis, B'way and Hollywood went to Europe for TV filming and got engaged to Swedish leading man Gunner Hellstrom... Actress Mona Knox'll marry Dr. Leslie Spicer of LA.

Prince Rainier and Aristotle Onassis are having bowling alleys installed in Monte Carlo. They are going to bowl three games, the winner to take the country.

Some N.Y. detectives got a bookbinder to print book covers saying "Everything I Know About Law Enforcement, by Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy"—with six completely blank pages. The books are of course being "privately distributed."

I took Monte Proser on a sentimental journey. Monte, founder of the Copacabana, is here to open "The Lanai at the Winter Garden," a B'way street-entrance bar and upstairs night club. It'll be on the site of the old Beachcomber where Proser introduced "zombies." We went to see Benny Goodman jamming the Basin St. East—which Monte operated as "La Vie" until it was closed for debts. "Ah," sighed Monte, as we went in, "this is the first I've been here since the government closed it. As we were leaving, he got sentimental about the steps. "I remember them so well," he said. "Many's the night I've fallen down them."

'Wrong to Prolong Life'

TORQUAY, England (AP)—there is no obligation to use extraordinary means. A British church leader told the nation's doctors Sunday it is morally wrong for them to lengthen the worn-out lives of old people by painful operations.

The Anglican Bishop of Exeter, Dr. R. C. Mortimer, made this point at the British Medical Association congress with these words:

"It is, in general, the Christian view that while there is a moral obligation to maintain life by all ordinary means, extraordinary means are means which involve very great expense, inconvenience or hardship and which at the same time offer no reasonable hope of success."

"To subject very old people to the acute discomfort of a serious operation or of feeding by intravenous drip would seem to be morally wrong."

NON-SWIMMER KEPT AFLOAT SEVEN HOURS

WHITSTABLE, England (Reuters). An eight-year-old girl who can't swim was rescued from the sea last night after floating on the water for at least seven hours.

Air in the girl's tight-fitting bathing cap and shoes apparently kept her afloat. She wandered away from her parents on the beach and was found floating in the water more than seven hours later by a yachtsman who thought she was a porpoise and sailed over to investigate.

JAPAN, HAWAII FOR FRIGATES

For cadets the cruise is part of the navy's regular officer-training plan.

TWO COUGARS HUNTED AT METCHOSIN

Provincial game officials today are checking on a report that two cougars are roaming the Metchosin area.

"But the report didn't seem to be too authentic," said Inspector Robert Sinclair.

"It was made second-hand to us by a woman who didn't leave her name."

However, cougar hunter James Paton is going to scour the area near Kangaroo Road.

The woman who phoned the game branch at the Legislative Buildings this morning said two cougars had been seen "playing" on the railroad tracks.

Girl, 8, Badly Hurt In Bike-Car Collision

Third Such Accident In Less Than Month

The area's third serious traffic mishap involving children and bicycles since May 25 put an eight-year-old Oak Bay girl into hospital Sunday with multiple injuries.

Karen Kissinger, 872 Island Road, is in "fair" condition at St. Joseph's Hospital with face injuries, broken leg, possible skull fracture and shock received when the bike she was riding at Island Road and McNeill was crushed under a teen-ager's car.

Two young boys have died of injuries received in similar accidents in the past month.

An inquest sits Tuesday into the death Thursday of Daniel Henson, nine, of 2141 Wenman, whose bike was in collision with a truck a week ago on San Juan near Tyndall.

Russell Johnstone, seven, of 7949 East Saanich, died of injuries received when his bike was in collision with a bus on East Saanich Road May 25.

The accident happened at about 3:15 p.m., before a rain storm hit the area.

'Presidential Government' For Pakistan

Victorians shouldn't gripe about the "gentle showers" this June—they are to make the greenery grow, a Pakistan visitor said today.

Samuel Martin Burke, Pakistan's high commissioner to Canada, is here for a week, his first visit since going to Ottawa a year ago.

Burke or "Burq" in Urdu means "lightning," said the commissioner. Pakistan Christians adopted European names to signify their religion.

Acting Premier Eric Martin met Mr. Burke this morning in Premier Bennett's office. The premier is at a cabinet meeting in Creston.

Mr. Burke said he was here "to tell the government and people about our country, and to find out more about yours."

Pakistan is conducting a bold experiment in government, he said. Where parliamentary democracy "has failed," a system of presidential government is being set up.

CLOSE TO CANADA

An electoral college of 80,000 village councillors themselves elected—would choose both president and members of a House of Representatives.

Pakistan was very close to Canada, said Mr. Burke.

"If there was a world explosion we should find ourselves falling on the same side of the fence."

The two big ties were the Colombo Plan which has meant $15 million annual Canadian aid for Pakistan, and the "family" link of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Burke will see Mayor Percy Scourah and civic officials Tuesday, meet Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross Wednesday and address a Rotary luncheon Thursday.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: Alfred Montague Gosnell, 102-Bushby, $40 for careless driving.

John Charles Fowler, 1308 Dallas, $20 for driving without a licence.

16-YEAR-OLD

Oak Bay police said the Kissinger girl rode south on Island Road, where there is a stop sign, and was in collision with a car driven east on McNeill by a 16-year-old Victoria boy, whose name was withheld.

The accident happened at about 3:15 p.m., before a rain storm hit the area.

LOUIS ARMSTRONG ... himself

Cats to Flip For Satchmo At City Show

The biggest treat yet for Victoria jazz fans (or rather 'cats') is coming to the Memorial Arena Saturday, Sept. 17 in the shape of old Satchmo himself—Louis Armstrong.

His visit has been arranged by Victoria Cosmopolitan Club to help them in their aim to provide "Toys for Tots."

Robert Marconi, secretary, and chairman of the ways and means committee, said today: "We are asking Victorians to help us in our work and in return we are bringing them Louis."

Despite the cool reception given to Duke Ellington last week, he was not particularly concerned about the success of the venture.

The regular Armstrong All Stars are coming, plus singer Velma Middleton. Tickets will be on sale from Eaton's Sept. 1 and on sale from Cosmopolitan Club members.

MONTE ROBERTS

Don't look now, but the London Look is infiltrating the environs of Victoria.

I do not know this from personal observation, being much too old to observe the exposure of female underpinnings which (I am told) is the basic concept of the London Look.

But from what my spies tell me, every day more and more young members of the opposing sex are appearing in skirts which are ending farther and farther above the ground.

If this is true, then something should be done. Mind you, I have no parochial reason to object to the invasion of Victoria by the London Look. After all, what more appropriate place for the London Look to burgeon than in this Little Bit of Old England.

And I can see no aesthetic reason to ban the London Look in this area.

As far as I can recall from the dim, distant past (before I became too old to observe such phenomena) the females of this area used to go to no one in the matter of aesthetically appealing underpinnings.

This, in fact, is the main reason I am convinced something should be done.

There are too many men in this area who are still young enough to observe such phenomena as the London Look.

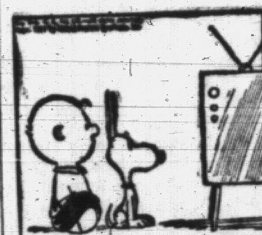

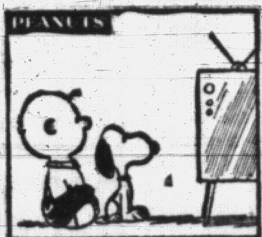

And most of these men are also drivers of automobiles.

From what I have heard about the London Look (from hearsay only, of course) it is apt to distract an observant young man even on a foggy day in London town.

What it might do to observant young men automobile drivers on a windy day in Victoria boggles the imagination, and could only be of benefit to the body and fender repair shops.

Thus something should be done, although I am not certain just what.

Possibly compulsory blinders for all young drivers, or a law against windy days in Victoria.

'Short Summer So Make Most Of It'

Weather Pattern To Stay in Rut

A short summer is expected in Victoria this week.

Summertime officially begins on Tuesday at 2:43 a.m. Pacific Daylight Time.

Weatherman William Mackie expects there will be a short summer beginning this afternoon, continuing through Tuesday and Wednesday and ending with showers early Thursday.

"Sorry I can't be more cheerful," he said, "but we must make the most of what we get."

This is certainly a poor return for the hailstones and heavy showers which hit parts of southern Vancouver Island Sunday afternoon.

Hailstones rattled on the windows at Cordova Bay around 4 p.m. and spread over Port Alberni and Cowichan Lake. Cordova Bay had .65 inch of rainfall, Pat Bay Air port had .08 inch and downtown Victoria .04 inch.

Temperatures ranged from 60 to 62 degrees.

NO DAMAGE

Saanich fruit growers reported no damage from the hail, but grower Bill Mattick of Cordova Bay said it was the heaviest downpour he has seen there in 30 years of farming.

The downtown temperature at noon today was 57. Temperatures are expected to rise to between 65 and 68 Tuesday with generally sunny conditions prevailing.

"There is hope we are now beginning a slow but improving trend," said Weatherman Mackie. "But, alas, I cannot foresee any long-lasting change in weather pattern."

Burglars Scared Away From Safes At City Club

Burglars had their eyes on a pair of office safes before being scared away from a downtown club they sneaked into Sunday.

City police, called to Tillamook Club, 645 Johnson, at 12:05 p.m. found evidence of intent to break the pair of safes, but the only actual force used was against a cigarette vending machine and a fire door.

An undetermined sum of money was taken from the machine and a stock check of the club disclosed nothing else missing.

Earlier, it was reported to police someone who broke into the curling rink, Quadra Street, forced two cigarette machines and took the money they contained.

Nothing else was disturbed and police suspected juveniles.

Job Insurance Requested For All Public Employees

Resolutions on a wide range of subjects from unemployment insurance to nuclear disarmament were passed during the weekend at the annual convention at Courtenay of the National Union of Public Employees, B.C. division.

The 130 delegates urged that all public employees, whether considered permanent or not, should be covered by unemployment insurance.

They also called for amendment of the Unemployment Insurance Act to provide for penalty contributions from employers unnecessarily causing unemployment and elimination of a provision preventing laid-off workers from drawing benefits until their holiday credits are expired.

Another resolution sought amendment of the minimum wages and hours of work legislation to bring municipal employees under its provisions.

DRUG PROBE

Resolutions on matters of general public interest included one urging that Canada press for a policy of world disarmament and an end to nuclear tests and another calling for investigation of the drug industry with a view to placing it under government control.

The conference also urged that retirement age for women be raised to 65 and that Workmen's Compensation Board widows' pensions and war disability pensions be increased to meet living costs.

ADMIRAL'S PARTING WORDS

'Fair Sailing On Sea of Life'

Rear Admiral H. S. Rayner made his last public appearance in Victoria Sunday afternoon when he presented carrying colors to the Rainbow Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps and the Admiral Rayner Navy League Cadet Corps.

Nearly 600 Victorians and visitors attended the colorful ceremony held in bright sunshine on the lawns of the Legislative Buildings. Admiral Rayner praised the cadets on their "splendid appearance and turn-out."

The admiral leaves here June 30 to take up his new appointment in Ottawa as Chief of the Naval Staff.

"I shall always follow your progress, with keen interest," he told the cadets and their sister group the Wrenettes, assembled in splendid array before the reviewing stand.

"During my three years on this coast I have been impressed by your enthusiasm and prowess and I know you will carry on these traditions. This is a wholesome way of life in which good fellowship, discipline and fair play are fostered. Good luck, fair sailing and lots of adventure on the sea of life."

Admiral Rayner thanked Mrs. Patricia Dufour, president of the Victoria branch, Navy League of Canada, and officers of the Cadets and Wrenettes on "the splendid results you have achieved."

BIG DAY

Mrs. Dufour, standing with Admiral Rayner on the reviewing stand, said:

"This is probably one of the most important days of your lives—the first time colors have been presented to both our cadet corps by a top executive of the Royal Canadian Navy."

"On this occasion we remember with gratitude our forebears in this proud organization—the first Boys' Naval Brigade of Victoria."

Led by the Guard of the Rainbow corps, the cadets and Wrenettes marched with the Rainbow Band past crowds lining the Causeway and assembled in front of the Buildings.

Admiral Rayner, accompanied by Mrs. Dufour, inspected the guard and stopped to chat with individual cadets. He then presented the Sea Cadet White Ensign to the Rainbow corps and the Navy League flag to the cadet corps.

"Remember our history is enshrined in these colors," he told them.

TAKES SALUTE

After the color parties had trooped the colors, Admiral Rayner took the salute at a march past.

Ald. Elmer McEwen represented Mayor Percy Scourah at the ceremony, which was also attended by Reeves George Murdoch of Oak Bay, Commander A. C. Wurtelle of Esquimalt; D. W. Brown, president, Vancouver Island division of the Navy League; Mrs. W. C. Woodward, Mrs. J. C. Bridgman and Miss Kathleen Agnew.

NOVEL CONTRIBUTION to University of Victoria building fund was $175 from Lansdowne Junior High School, representing number of pennies needed to span distance between main entrances of the university and "kitty corner" junior high building.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Premier Bennett and Education Minister Peterson will both speak at a "rally" next week for the opening of the province's new Burnaby vocational school.

It is speculated there will be some announcement concerning education policy.

Mr. Peterson will be chairman and the Premier guest speaker at the ceremony on June 28.

The new trade school—first actually built by the government—will offer courses in such subjects as welding and automotive mechanics. It will have a capacity for 500 students.

Two juveniles each were fined $5 when they pleaded guilty in Colwood court Saturday to traffic violations. A 16-year-old Colwood boy was fined for violating a driver's licence restriction by driving without insurance, and a 17-year-old Metchosin boy was fined for failing to yield right-of-way.

Regular meeting of Esquimalt municipal council will be held at the Municipal Hall tonight at 7:30.

New officers of Victoria Lions Club for the coming year are J. Percy Frampton, president; R. B. Young, first vice-president; and Harold McWilliams, second vice-president. Their installation was conducted by Rev. Harold C. Williams of Everett, past chairman of Multiple District Cabinet, Lions International District 19.

Annual students' recital of the Roberto Wood studios will be held at the Art Gallery, Moss Street, Tuesday evening at 8:15.

A movie telling the story of a British Columbia family crossing the Pacific in the liner Ss. Orsova will be shown at the weekly luncheon meeting of Victoria Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel Tuesday at 12:10 noon.

Greater Victoria elementary and junior high school pupils end their school term Thursday afternoon to join some 5,000 senior high school students already on vacation. Classes resume Sept. 6.

Annual meeting of Victoria Symphony Society will be held in the Art Gallery, 1040 Moss Street, tonight at 8. Conductor Hans Gruber will make a report.

Prayer and healing study meeting will be held Wednesday at 3 p.m. in Christ Church Cathedral's Memorial Hall.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Could you please tell me what a baby rabbit is called?

—W. S.

A. Presuming you mean a term similar to calf or colt, there is no term of that nature listed in the dictionary. People usually refer to a small rabbit as a "bunny," but this is actually a pet name for a rabbit of any age or size.

Q. Will you please tell me the names of the members of the B.C. Horse Racing Commission?—M. J. K.

A. Glen MacDonald, chairman; Alan McGavin, commissioner; Ken McConnell, secretary with powers of commissioner.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

Ten parking meters were the target of a thief who forced the locks and took money from their coin boxes overnight Saturday.

A patrol constable found eight meters on Gordon near Courtney and two on Government had been broken open sometime before 5:10 a.m. Sunday.

The area was searched, disclosing $4.55 in change under shrubbery at the corner of Gordon and Courtney, but no suspects.

About $400 was raised by a "Rotary Riot" organized by Douglas (Victoria) Rotary Club at Maynard Park, Cadboro Bay, Saturday. The money will be used to help Rotary youth activities.

Several hundred people attended the event, which was run on the lines of an outdoor bazaar.

William Gornall, president of Douglas (Victoria) Rotary Club, said today he felt even more would have attended but for the weather. They were, however, well satisfied with the results of their first attempt.

The annual picnic for patients of the Veterans' Hospital will be held at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club on Wednesday. Picnic is planned for 2 p.m.

Keep the Children Busy With New English Toys

By PENNY SAVER

With summer holidays almost here, wise mothers of small children will stock up on activity toys that will keep youngsters busy when rain comes or children are confined to bed with summer colds. Store I was in this week had a wonderful selection of new toys from England. All are moderate in price and planned to educate as well as amuse.

Always popular are sets of pictures that can be made by sticking colorful gummed paper shapes on to a prepared background. Boxes that sell at $1.19 contain eight pictures depicting such well-known nursery rhymes as Jack and Jill, Humpty Dumpty and little Miss Muffet.

When these are used up you can always get one of the special picture albums, priced at 29 cents, and refill packages of shapes, costing 35 cents for two, so that children can go ahead and create their own original pictures or designs.

Sets of fuzzy felt pictures have long been a favorite with little tots. One I've seen come at $1.75 and have all kinds of intriguing characters to place on the felt background. Included in the selection are circus scenes, farm pictures and a delightful series featuring the much loved "Noddy" character created by Enid Blyton in her children's books.

Children will have lots of fun making their own little fuzzy pets from sets that sell at 69 cents. Each set contains 10 strands of colored pliable wire and instructions for making kittens, turtles, rabbits, butterflies, swans, monkeys and other birds and animals.

Novel glass holders I've seen would be just the thing for holding glasses next time you plan a party in the garden. Of light but sturdy metal, holders have spikes that will anchor them in any turf lawn and come in colorful stripe combinations of white and blue, white and red or white and green. Place your glass in top of holder and you'll never have to worry about spills! Holders are selling at 59 cents.

For information on any of these items give Penny a ring at EV 2-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Let's Cultivate the Right Habits to Obtain Beauty

Beauty is a habit! There are many small habits that can be cultivated which will beat Father Time's subtle hand. Today I want to call your attention to some of these little habits which can create such magic.

Form the habit of watching your facial mannerisms. I do not mean that our thoughts always should be turned toward self and that our facial expressions must be studied, but do check on yourself once in a while. Be sure that you do not habitually frown your brow, frown, pout or indulge in any of the other grimaces which line your face unhappily.

Diet becomes ever more important as we grow older. Count calories if you need to. Work out a well-balanced and pleasant diet regime and allow it to become a way of life with you. Plan this with the idea that from middle age on we need especially vitamin food but less of it. Be aware of calcium, iron and protein deficiencies, which are the ones most often found in older persons.

Skin care is a most important ritual and must be regular. Spasmodic spurts of it will not pile up complexion dividends over the years. Too much hot sun, cold weather, wind and steam-heated buildings all have an aging effect. Usually the line starts around the eyes and mouth. Sometimes the whole face becomes dry and taut. Daily lubrication is most essential.

You can sidestep the aging process to an amazing degree with the right attention, methodically administered. It's as simple as this. Each day wash your face thoroughly with soapsuds and water to float away dust and make-up. This cleans and stimulates the skin.

This deep pore cleansing is more important than ever prior to using a lubricating cream. The skin must be properly cleansed in order to absorb the cream with top-notch efficiency. Emollients will not work well if the pores are clogged.

If you would like to have my free leaflet "Your Outer Coating" (care of skin), send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 47. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

LEMON SPONGE CUSTARD

Three-quarter cup white sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 3 eggs, separated, 1 cup milk, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 3 tablespoons flour, pinch of salt.

Cream sugar and butter together. Add lemon rind. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine milk and lemon juice. Add flour to creamed ingredients, alternately with liquid. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, beaten with a pinch of salt. Pour into baking dish. Bake in pan of hot water. Place in moderate oven, 350 deg. F., for about 45 minutes. Serve hot or cold. Makes 4 to 6 servings. As this custard bakes a cake-like topping forms over a lemon-flavored soufflé-like base. It's good served hot or cold.

For Orange Sponge Custard: Use the above recipe substituting 1 tablespoon grated orange rind for the lemon rind and 1/4 cup orange juice for the lemon juice.

DEAR ABBY

Sink or Swim!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last year we bought a home with a swimming pool. My husband makes a good living, but we aren't millionaires. We like to share our pool with friends, neighbors and relatives, but people started coming in droves any old time, uninvited.

Nobody thought to bring a pretzel or a bottle of anything. But how they enjoyed ours! Our bills for refreshments last summer were unbelievable. We were doing more business than a public pool.

Pool time is almost here again and we can't afford another summer like the last. If you have any practical suggestions for solving this problem, please hurry them our way. Thanks.

POOL OWNERS.

DEAR POOL OWNERS: I know some pool owners who fly a small flag on a pole when their pool is "open for guests." When the flag is down it means there is a private party going on, and the "public" is not welcome. Refreshments are served at the private affairs, but not during "public" swims. It's fair that way. And it works.

DEAR ABBY: Sorry to trouble you, but I was wondering about something I've heard was a fact, but I am wary about it. Tell me, is fish really brain food?

RICHARD S.

DEAR RICHARD: Only for suckers.

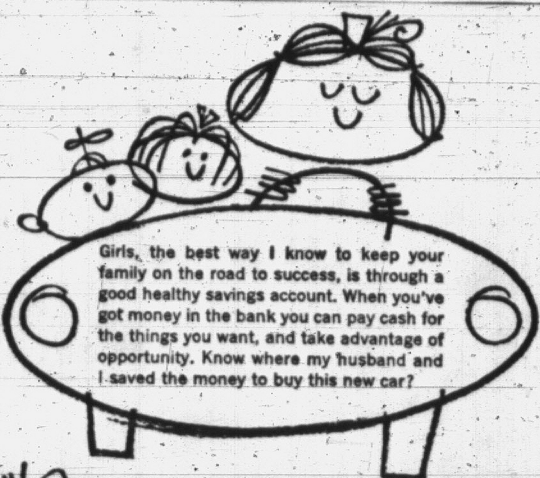

DEAR ABBY: You should see this doll. Ernie. I've had my eye on him all year and he finally asked me to go steady. But it turns out I am not only going steady with Ernie, I am also going steady with his best friend, Eugene. You never see one without the other. When Ernie takes me to a show, Eugene comes along. Even when Ernie comes to my house to see me, he has Eugene with him. It is nauseating. Eugene has the car, but I told Ernie (on the phone) that I wouldn't mind walking some place. So last Sunday we went for a long walk—all three of us. How can I get rid of Eugene without breaking up with Ernie?

SICK OF EUGENE

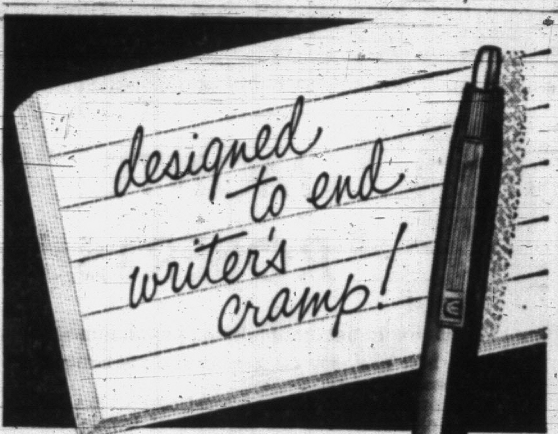

DEAR SICK: I have a hunch Eugene is always around because Ernie needs him for moral support. Don't try to ditch Eugene. Suggest a date for him. If that fails, you'll have to put up with Eugene until Ernie decides that three's a crowd.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Maxine Edith McClure Marries Sub-Lt. Michael P. Bowen, RCN

A naval guard of honor formed an archway of swords for Sub-Lt. Michael Paul Bowen, RCN, and Mrs. Bowen as they left St. John's Anglican Church, Saturday evening, following their marriage. Bride, the former Maxine Edith McClure, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McClure, 2431 Bowker Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bowen, 791 McKenzie Avenue, are the groom's parents.

Mauve gladioli and white daisies decorated the church for ceremony at which Canon George Biddle officiated. Tiny wedding bells marked the pews. Organist was Frederick Chubb.

Entering church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon sheer with a basque bodice and lily point sleeves. Lace, sparkling with iridescent sequins, formed the draped nylon sheer sash and neckline. Slightly dropped waistline formed a point in front and billowed into a full hooped skirt with a front panel trimmed with two flat bows and applique of lace. Her silk illusion veil was held by a dainty cap of nylon sheer and seed pearls which was set slightly over the forehead with one pearl droplet in the middle and a perky bow highlighting the back. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Judi Bowen, sister of the bride and only attendant, was gown in pale orchid silk organza. Her bouquet was of mauve gladioli.

Petal pink, grey and white were colors in pure silk sheath worn by mother of the bride. Empire bodice had a portrait neckline, draped to one side and caught by a single rose of self-fabric. Mother of the groom chose a blue floral sheath with wide-collared jacket.

Sub-Lt. David S. Drew, RCN, was best man and ushers were David G. Titterton and Hugh G. Jervis-Read, cousins of the groom and bride respectively.

Yellow rosebuds flanked wedding cake centring the head table at a reception in the Heather Room, Glenshiel Hotel. Uncle of the bride, Cedric Jervis-Read, proposed the toast to her happiness.

A two-piece blue wool suit with white accessories was worn by the new Mrs. Bowen for a honeymoon motoring trip to the interior of British Columbia.

Newlyweds will make their home in Victoria.

Young Choristers Sing At Berry-Hornsby Vows

A full choral service by the Metropolitan junior and teen choristers formed background white roses. Leslie D. Hornsby was given to the bride's mother, who was celebrating her 22nd anniversary.

Anthony Harrison Berry in the Metropolitan United Church. Choristers, who are directed by the groom's mother, sang a benediction at completion of the wedding vows.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Hornsby of Victoria. Groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Berry, also of this city.

Red and white gladioli decorated church for the ceremony conducted by Rev. F. E. H. James. Eric Boothroyd was organist.

Choir sang "John Goss' 'Praise My Soul' as the bride entered church on the arm of her father. Her floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over white peau de soie had a low scoop neckline, edged with scalloped lace. Sleeves were lily point. Rosebuds of self fabric caught the lace of the skirt on either side of the flowing chapel-length train. A finger-tip length veil of tulle was held by a coronet of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses, red carnation florets and ivy. "Something old" was a pearl-studded ring which had belonged to the groom's grandmother. The gift of the groom was a necklace and earrings of cultured pearls.

Red organza gowns, topped with brief white lace jackets, were worn by the maid of honor, Miss Gwen Underwood, and the bridesmaids, Miss Linda Owen, Vancouver, and Miss Janis Girardau, cousin of the bride. They wore white organza picture hats and carried bouquets of white gladioli. Their jewelry was crystal rhinestone necklets and earrings, gift of the groom.

The flower girl, Miss Maureen Hornsby, the bride's cousin, wore a dress of white nylon dotted sheer with matching jacket. She had a heart-shaped headress and carried a bouquet of red and white carnations. The gift of the groom was a silver locket.

David Turner was best man and the ushers were Jack Smith and Wayne Hornsby, the bride's brother.

As the couple left the church members of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team formed an honor guard. The bride is a former member of the team.

White roses, red streamers and red and white gladioli decorated the Golden Slipper Supper Club for the reception. A four-tier wedding cake cen-

GHANA Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah will exchange visits with Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, it was reported Sunday.

BIG EXCHANGE

Tourists Ignore Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. citizens are flocking to Russia at a record rate this year despite the summit blowup and world-wide Communist attacks on President Eisenhower.

Soviet visits to the United States are also at a new high, though still a trickle compared with the U.S. flow to Moscow.

Experts figured Sunday the influx of Soviet tourists may approach 1,000 this year, five times last year's record of 200.

The number of Americans travelling to the Soviet Union last year has been estimated at a record 12,000. In 1960, experts in and out of government, predict the figure may hit 15,000. Some estimates go higher.

Various explanations are offered. It is thought that despite their diplomatic clashes, both the U.S. and Soviet governments are officially in favor of the two-way flow of visitors as an aid to understanding between the two countries.

U.S. Ousts Cubans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Saturday ordered two consular officials of Cuba's Castro government to leave this country within 48 hours. One was accused of being Cuba's master spy in the Miami area.

'Liquor Laws to Blame For Indian Girls' Deaths'

(Compiled from C.P.)
VANCOUVER — To P. H. McDonald has called for liquor privileges for British Columbia Indians to bring an end to untimely deaths of Indian girls of Vancouver's Skid Row.

He made the statement Sunday following discovery of the body of a 28-year-old Indian girl in a rooming house. The body was identified by a half sister.

Police withheld the woman's name, but she was believed from a reservation in Alberta. B.C. Indians are prohibited from buying liquor in liquor stores or having it on their reserves, the coroner said. The result is many Indians sit in beer parlors all night and when they come out they are easy prey for white men.

Mr. McDonald said there have been three Indian women found dead in Vancouver this year.

EARLY BOOM

VANCOUVER — Nature fired Vancouver's nine-o'clock gun five hours early Sunday. A bolt of lightning struck the ancient artillery piece on Brockton Point in Stanley Park and its loud report startled afternoon visitors to the park. No damage was done to the gun, however.

BODY RECOVERED

VANCOUVER — Divers Sunday recovered the body of

they do it without attracting attention.

His comment came during the trial of William John Duschene, 31, found guilty of impeding driving.

The magistrate explained that swearing becomes an offence when it attracts a crowd and creates a public nuisance.

Duschene was fined $125 and his driving licence was suspended for six months.

LAY UNCONSCIOUS

VANCOUVER — Police are investigating the death of Patrick Jenner, 37 of Vancouver, who lay unconscious in his home for 30 hours last week before receiving medical aid.

His wife told police she did not call for an ambulance after her husband became unconscious because she thought he was sleeping off the effects of a late party.

PROBE BY INTERNATIONAL JURISTS

Red China Found Guilty Of Mass Tibetan Murders

GENEVA (UPI). Communist China was guilty of the systematic extermination or genocide in Tibet in an attempt to destroy the Tibetan people as a religious group, the International Commission of Jurists said today.

The commission's legal inquiry committee also found that the Communist Chinese authorities in Tibet violated most of the rights laid down in the United Nations declaration of human rights including the right to life itself.

The committee concluded its 11-month investigation here recently and submitted an unanimous 200-page report which will be published next month.

NINE-MAN TEAM

The nine-man group of judges, lawyers and law professors said it determined that widespread killings took place in Tibet which were unrelated to military action in suppressing the 1959 uprising.

The committee ruled that acts of genocide were committed in an attempt to destroy the Tibetans as a religious group. But it failed to find sufficient proof of their extermination as a race, nation or ethnic group as defined by international law by the UN convention on genocide.

The committee found that Tibet was fully justified in March, 1959, in repudiating its 1951 agreement surrendering de facto independence to Communist China.

French Newsmen Sentenced for Concealing Source

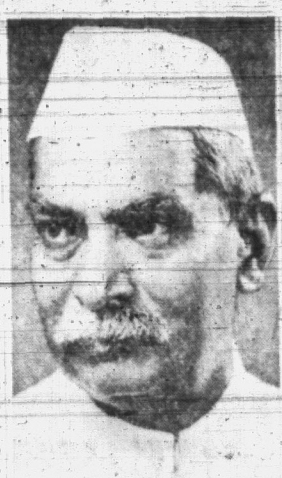

PARIS (Reuters)—A military court Friday night handed a two-year suspended sentence to a French journalist-novelist for failing to denounce a news source wanted by police for helping Moslem insurgents in Algeria.

George Arnaud, 42-year-old author of the novel The Wages of Fear—later made into a hit film—was convicted of "non-denunciation of a person wanted for plotting against the security of the state."

The charge arose after he attended a press conference held by Francois Jeanson, a former philosophy professor wanted by police for helping Moslem insurgents in their fight against French colonial rule in Algeria.

Jean Paul Sartre, existentialist playwright and author, told the court Arnaud "cannot betray" the confidence Jeanson placed in him.

A letter from Pierre Lazareff, director of the independent newspaper France Soir, was read in court. Lazareff said he did not share Arnaud's political views, but "no news is possible if you are obliged to betray those who confide in you."

VISIT to Moscow was started today by President Rajendra Prasad of India, who will spend 15 days in Soviet capital.

Big New Tanker

PARIS (AP)—The largest oil tanker ever built in Europe, the 73,800-ton Jean Paul Getty, was launched at Dunkerque. Just about the same time, the largest ship ever built in Belgium, the 45,000-ton tanker Calixt Madrid, was launched at Antwerp.

Algerian Rebels Agree To Cease-Fire Talks

First Break In Long War

TUNIS, Tunisia (UPI)—Algerian rebels today accepted President Charles de Gaulle's offer to negotiate an end to years of costly warfare.

A communique issued by the rebel Algerian provisional government said Premier Ferhat Abbas personally would lead a peace delegation to Paris.

The statement, replying to a peace appeal issued by De Gaulle last week, stressed the rebels still were dissatisfied with certain aspects of his pledge of self-determination for Algeria.

Nevertheless, the positive reply appeared to spell the first major break in a war that numerous times has left France tottering on the edge of political, economic and social collapse.

In Paris, official sources said De Gaulle had been informed beforehand of the contents of the rebel reply and considered it "not negative." It currently is under study, the sources said.

FERHAT ABBAS
... to lead delegation

SEND REPRESENTATIVE

The rebel group (FLN) did not indicate when the delegation would leave for Paris, but said it would send a representative there beforehand to arrange the details.

The acceptance was certain to touch off a strong reaction among French right wing extremists, who fear that any reconciliation between de Gaulle and the rebels will end in losing Algeria to the control of the Moslem majority.

These factions, led by former Gaullist minister Jacques Soustelle, were meeting at Vincennes, France, today on their next move to "keep Algeria French."

Some reports said they might go so far as to proclaim a separate government for Algeria in the event the rebels agreed to open negotiations with de Gaulle.

De Gaulle's peace program for Algeria, announced soon after he took control in France, includes a promise to allow the residents of that territory to determine their own political status by referendum after the rebels give up their arms.

His last appeal to the rebels for negotiation limited the subject matter to a cease fire. He continued to resist FLN demands that Abbas and his aides be recognized as lawful spokesmen for Algeria's Moslems on the political bargaining to follow a cease fire.

U.K. Hails Decision

LONDON (AP)—Britain today officially hailed the decision of the Algerian rebel leadership to accept President de Gaulle's offer of ceasefire talks.

The foreign office also reaffirmed Britain's backing of de Gaulle's September, 1959, principles for an Algerian settlement based on self-determination.

Tension Grips Settlers

ALGIERS (Reuters)—French troops were drafted into the big cities of Algeria today as tension rose among right-wing settlers following acceptance by rebel leaders of an invitation to Paris to discuss ways of ending their 5½-year-old war.

The troops were ordered in from rural garrisons and a temporary ban was imposed on all political meetings.

The order was issued by Paul Delouvrier, French delegate-general and President de Gaulle's chief official in Algeria.

It came as troops patrolled the streets of Algiers and police guards were reinforced at all public buildings to combat possible settler demonstrations against the talks with Moslem insurgents.

Bankruptcy Under Study

WINNIPEG (CP)—Federal bankruptcy legislation is being reviewed by the justice department, Justice Minister Fulton said today.

He said there have been a number of complaints to the government that the act favors the debtor, that delays allow debtors to avoid their commitments, and that bankruptcy arrangements for small estates are open to "wide abuse."

In a speech to the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, Mr. Fulton said these and other questions are to be fully reviewed by his department.

YEGGS GET $250,000, MISS THAT MUCH MORE

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—An estimated $250,000 worth of cash and cheques was stolen from the vault of the state motor vehicles department early today.

Although they looted about a dozen cash lockers in the vault, the thieves did not get into the main safe, which contained more than $250,000. There was no evidence that they had tried.

'Careful Study Given to Mall'

By JOHN MIKA

The View Street mall and car park project has had the most careful planning he has ever seen, Mayor Percy Scurrah said today.

He made the statement in a point-by-point reply to charges by ex-alderman Robert Macmillan Saturday that the project was "badly organized, badly timed and ill advised."

Answered the mayor: "On the contrary, in my long business experience I have never known a project to be so well thought out and carefully planned. And it is not the thinking of any one person."

"The plan is the result of a most careful study by our engineering department, the town planning commission, Dr. D. Jackson Faustman of Sacramento, who made our traffic survey, and Gordon Whitnall, recognized as one of the outstanding authorities on town planning in North America."

Peter W. M. Graham, 35-year-old president of Family Finance Corporation and Vancouver Vending Services Limited, and son of financier F. Ronald Graham, said the application has been filed with Lamar Hunt of Dallas, Tex., president of the AFL.

Graham, who would not name other members of the group, said the application will be considered by the infant AFL group at its next meeting in July. A $125,000 performance bond was filed with the application to guarantee that the club will complete its first year in the league.

He added that the team would play its home games at Empire Stadium, now home of British Columbia Lions.

'Colonial Terror' Charged

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (Reuters)—Portugal was accused at today's session of the conference of independent African states of carrying out in its African colonies "a reign of terror, wholesale massacres and slavery unchanged from ancient times."

Jose Gilmore, delegate of the Union of Populations in Portuguese Angola, called on the conference to examine Portuguese colonialism. He accused Portuguese officials of fostering forced labor in its most brutal form.

"Semi-official statistics for 1957 put the number of workers at 700,000, including men, women and children from seven to 70 years," he said. He described Portuguese colonialism as "Fascism in its most exacerbated form" and "the most inhuman type of racialism."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

By the gift of Thy Spirit bring us into Thy presence, where we may be still and know that Thou art God; in the name of Christ, Amen.

GRID RIVAL FOR LIONS IN VANCOUVER?

VANCOUVER (CP)—A group of Vancouver businessmen, headed by a young investment dealer, today announced they have filed application with the American Football League for a franchise. If accepted, the team would join the AFL in time for the 1961 season.

Peter W. M. Graham, 35-year-old president of Family Finance Corporation and Vancouver Vending Services Limited, and son of financier F. Ronald Graham, said the application has been filed with Lamar Hunt of Dallas, Tex., president of the AFL.

Graham, who would not name other members of the group, said the application will be considered by the infant AFL group at its next meeting in July. A $125,000 performance bond was filed with the application to guarantee that the club will complete its first year in the league.

He added that the team would play its home games at Empire Stadium, now home of British Columbia Lions.

'We Won't Waste Aid' Koreans Promise Ike

SEOUL (AP)—President Eisenhower left South Korea for Honolulu tonight, completing a Far Eastern tour, cut short by rioting in Japan.

Eisenhower left with a pledge from South Korea's reform government to guard against wasting the hundreds of millions of dollars in aid the United States pours in each year.

"I pledge that we will do everything possible to ensure that American aid funds are wisely, efficiently and honestly used for the benefit of all of the Korean people," Premier Huh Chung declared in his parting words to Eisenhower at Seoul International airport.

The only anti-American demonstration Eisenhower actually saw was on Okinawa, Sunday.

SNAKE DANCE

Snake-dancing Okinawans chanted "Go home, go home" and waved Japanese flags during his two-hour visit.

They carried placards reading "You were never invited here," "United States imperialism get out of Japan without delay" and "Do away with hydrogen bombs."

The demonstrators were part of a movement that favors return of the Ryukyu Islands, of which Okinawa is the main one, to Japan.

Eisenhower urged leaders of the new South Korean government to make the most of their opportunity to give the Communist-threatened land true democracy. Referring to the revolt against Syngman Rhee, he said "prompt and judicious fulfillment of the recently expressed wishes of the Korean people is a momentous challenge."

Eisenhower is expected to spend three or four days in Hawaii before continuing home to Washington.

Anti-Semite Arson?

ORILLIA, Ont. (UPI)—Ontario fire marshal's office inspectors today investigated a fire that destroyed a Jewish camp on Lake Couchiching Saturday. Officials said it may have been touched off as a result of anti-Semitism.

Her Majesty's Subjects Not Amused by Ike's Goof

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times reports there were several frosty moments at the White House dinner for Prime Minister Diefenbaker when he was visiting President Eisenhower earlier this month.

Under a stock heading "Random Notes in Washington," a weekly collection of stories in lighter vein from the capital, The Times reveals:

"When the dinner was being arranged, the Canadians hoped that some of their more distinguished citizens would be invited. They were told, however, that this was the president's evening to entertain members of the National Presbyterian Church, which he attends when in Washington."

"Mr. Diefenbaker, a Baptist, thus found himself surrounded most of the evening by deserving Presbyterians. "More serious was a slip by President Eisenhower. In giving the toast to Queen Elizabeth, the president referred to the 'republic of Canada.' He repeated the error in a second reference."

Gales, Rain Lash 'Quake-Torn' Chile

VALDIVIA, Chile (UPI)—

Earth loosened by a howling wind and rain storm in quake-devastated southern Chile thundered down the slopes overlooking Lake Panguipulli Sunday, carrying 18 persons to their deaths.

Reports from the scene, in the mountains 60-odd miles east of here, said the landslide carried a house into the lake and killed all of its occupants.

A few hours later, the worst earthquake of the month rocked Chile's disaster zone. The new quake caused widespread panic and completed the destruction of many buildings damaged by last month's violent tremors, but no new casualties were reported.

The storm that lashed the Concepcion-Valdivia area Sunday was so violent that in some places it blew down walls left standing by the con-

RED GUNNERS LIFT ATTACK ON QUEMOY

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The guns of Red China and the Chinese Nationalists were silent again today after the biggest artillery battle of the six-year-old war in the Formosa Strait.

Red Chinese batteries plastered Nationalist-held Quemoy Sunday with a record 88,700 shells in a contemptuous farewell salute to President Eisenhower.

The barrage triggered a counter-assault from the Nationalist garrison, which pounded the Red gun positions a few miles away to ease pressure on Quemoy.

THIS WORLD OF OURS People and Things

(Times News Service)
LONDON (AP)—There was a strange sound in the grim Tower of London. Guitars strumming out that gay old tune, "It Must Be Jelly, 'Cause Jam Don't Shake Like That."

The patrol of the Grenadier Guards dashed off toward the sound of the strumming to find the sentry, in scarlet uniform and bearskin hat performing a duet with the young son of another guard.

The sentry, his name for ever "coloured" behind regulations, was marched off on charges of irregular conduct and ordered to do extra duty and have his privileges reduced.

PORT CARLING, Ont.—Liquor advertising was described by a United Church minister Sunday as "a form of cannibalism."

In a closing sermon at the eighth national conference of men of the United Church of Canada, Rev. Robert J. D. Morris of Edmonton recalled counting six full-page liquor advertisements in a magazine which reported highway death figures indicating that drinking contributed to one road fatality every hour in the United States.

He said such advertisements are a form of evil which means "we are using the lives of our neighbors . . . It feeds me at the expense of my neighbor's life."

David Wong, of Victoria, was arrested on the weekend at his Saanich home and charged in connection with the beating and attempted robbery last Thursday of Lee Fung, 58, proprietor of the Tin Yin Club, Port Alberni.

He is the second Victorian arrested in the case and both were remanded to Wednesday for election on charges of breaking and entering with intent to steal at the Port Alberni club.

Gunnar Jacobson, about 30, appeared in Port Alberni RCMP court Thursday after his arrest on the heels of the alleged offence. Wong appeared in court Saturday, when bail was set at $7,500.

The old market building site on Cormorant serves an entire lot to the shopping centre bounded by Yates, Douglas and Fort, especially in bad weather, is entirely unrealistic.

IN LINE

Parking meter revenues will pay off the $1,000,000 borrowing, and the proposed increase in the rate to five cents for 30 minutes is in line with many other cities on the continent. Both Seattle and Vancouver charge 10 cents an hour and in Toronto it is 20 cents.

"Meter revenue cannot be considered a tax. A tax is something that all persons are compelled to pay."

"But nobody is compelled to use street meters and therefore it cannot in any way be considered a tax. Civic tax money is not involved in the View Street plan."

"In the considered opinion of both myself and the city council, this plan definitely will provide not only parking for the shopper but also pleasant surroundings in which to shop."

HAPPY TO PAY

"It is our opinion that they will be happy to pay for an hour's parking for their customers, using the View garage, that same as is done now by validation of parking tickets by merchants in the 700 Block Yates."

"We see no reason why the same will not be applicable to all people doing business on Douglas, Fort, Yates and View Streets."

The mayor also warned that development of shopping centres on the city's outskirts "poses a problem which must

Volunteers Adjust Well To Bomb Shelter Living

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Thirty men, women and children are back home after a two-week stay in a 12 by 20 foot bomb shelter.

The volunteers walked out of experimental shelter Sunday, and officials of the American Institute of Research, which conducted the test, were pleased with the results.

"Even in our most optimistic moment, we did not envision the high degree of adjustment and the scarcity of problems which actually occurred," said Dr. James W. Altman, project director.

The experiment was designed to test, psychologically and sociologically, human reaction to shelter conditions for the office of civil defence mobilization.

Mrs. Laura Ellis, 72, oldest of the volunteers, was conducting Sunday school services when the group was told to leave. Asked why she volunteered, the grandmother replied:

MISSED PLAYING OUTSIDE
Martha Mahnowski, 7, the youngest of the group, said: "I just missed playing outside."

Her father, Zygmunt, 49, took two weeks from his job to take part in the test with his wife and two children.

The first thing 10-year-old Paul Marlow Jr. said as he left the shelter was: "Where's my daddy?" Mrs. Marion, who had Paul Jr. and a daughter, Kathleen, with her, said:

"The first few days the children were under strain. Both of mine were homesick. Some nights then had tears in their eyes. But finally they got adjusted."

The group had no newspapers, television or radios with them. Games and cards offered the only recreation.

TWO COUGARS HUNTED AT METCHOSIN

Provincial game officials today are checking on a report that two cougars are roaming the Metchosin area.

"But the report didn't seem to be too authentic," said Inspector Robert Sinclair.

"It was made second-hand to us by a woman who didn't leave her name."

However, cougar hunter James Paton is going to scour the area near Kangaroo Road.

'Short Summer So Make Most Of It'

Weather Pattern To Stay in Rut

A short summer is expected in Victoria this week.

Summertime officially begins on Tuesday at 2:43 a.m. Pacific Daylight Time.

Weatherman Bill Mackie expects there will be a short summer beginning this afternoon, continuing through Tuesday and Wednesday and ending with showers early Thursday.

"Sorry I can't be more cheerful," he said, "but we must make the most of what we get."

This is certainly a poor return for the hailstones and heavy showers which hit parts of southern Vancouver Island Sunday afternoon.

Hailstones rattled on the windows at Cordova Bay around 4 p.m. and spread over Port Alberni and Cowichan Lake. Cordova Bay had .65 inch of rainfall, Pat Bay Air port had .08 inch and downtown Victoria .04 inch.

Temperatures ranged from 60 to 62 degrees.

NO DAMAGE

Saanich fruit growers reported no damage from the hail, but grower Bill Mattick of Cordova Bay said it was the heaviest downpour he has seen there in 30 years of farming. The downtown temperature at noon today was 57. Temperatures are expected to rise to between 65 and 68 Tuesday with generally sunny conditions prevailing.

"There is hope we are now beginning a slow but improving trend," said Weatherman Mackie, "But, alas, I cannot foresee any long-lasting change in weather pattern."

Burglars Scared Away From Safes At City Club

Burglars had their eyes on a pair of office safes before being scared away from a downtown club they sneaked into Sunday.

The area was searched, disclosing $4.53 in change under shrubbery at the corner of Gordon and Courtney, but no suspects.

About $400 was raised by a "Rotary Riot" organized by Douglas (Victoria) Rotary Club at Maynard Park, Cadboro Bay, Saturday. The money will be used to help Rotary youth activities.

Several hundred people attended the event, which was run on the lines of an outdoor bazaar.

William Gornall, president of Douglas (Victoria) Rotary Club, said today he felt even more would have attended but for the weather. They were, however, well satisfied with the results of their first attempt.

The annual picnic for patients of the Veterans' Hospital will be held at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club on Wednesday. Picnic is planned for 2 p.m.

Winners of the monthly master point awards tournament announced by the Victoria Unit, American Contract Bridge League, are: North-south, S. Marinker and G. Rodger, Irene Abels and Harry Darry, Ethel Cleworth and Harry Brawn, Eric Goodwin and Jim Duprau; east-west, Henry Smille, Vancouver, and Frank Artlett, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith, Parksville; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Duprau, Tony Marsh and Otto Lesment.

Girl, 8, Badly Hurt In Bike-Car Collision

Third Such Accident In Less Than Month

The area's third serious traffic mishap involving children and bicycles since May 25 put an eight-year-old Oak Bay girl into hospital Sunday with multiple injuries.

Karen Kissinger, 872 Island Road, is in "fair" condition at St. Joseph's Hospital with face injuries, broken leg, possible skull fracture and shock received when the bike she was riding at Island Road and McNeill was crushed under a teen-ager's car.

Two young boys have died of injuries received in similar accidents in the past month.

An inquest sits Tuesday into the death Thursday of Daniel Henson, nine, of 2141 Wenman, whose bike was in collision with a truck a week ago on San Juan near Tyndall.

'Presidential Government' For Pakistan

Victorians shouldn't gripe about the "gentle showers" this June—they are to make the greenery grow, a Pakistan visitor said today.

Samuel Martin Burke, Pakistan's high commissioner to Canada, is here for a week, his first visit since going to Ottawa a year ago.

Burke or "Burg" in Urdu means "lightning," said the commissioner. Pakistan Christians adopted European names to signify their religion.

Acting Premier Eric Martin met Mr. Burke this morning in Premier Bennett's office. The premier is at a cabinet meeting in Creston.

Mr. Burke said he was here "to tell the government and people about our country, and to find out more about yours."

Pakistan is conducting a bold experiment in government, he said. Where parliamentary democracy "has failed," a system of presidential government is being set up.

CLOSE TO CANADA

An electoral college of 80,000 village councillors themselves elected—would choose both president and members of a House of Representatives. Pakistan was very close to Canada, said Mr. Burke.

"If there was a world explosion we should find ourselves falling on the same side of the fence."

The two big ties were the Colombo Plan which has meant $15 million annual Canadian aid for Pakistan, and the "family" link of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Burke will see Mayor Percy Scurrell and civic officials Tuesday, meet Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross Wednesday and address a Rotary luncheon Thursday.

'Fair Sailing On Sea of Life'

Rear Admiral H. S. Rayner made his last public appearance in Victoria Sunday afternoon when he presented carrying colors to the Rainbow Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps and the Admiral Rayner Navy League Cadet Corps.

Nearly 600 Victorians and visitors attended the colorful ceremony, held in bright sunshine on the lawns of the Legislative Buildings. Admiral Rayner praised the cadets on their "splendid appearance and turn-out."

The admiral leaves here June 30 to take up his new appointment in Ottawa as Chief of the Naval Staff.

"I shall always follow your progress with keen interest," he told the cadets and their sister group the Wrenettes, assembled in splendid array before the reviewing stand.

"This is a wholesome way of life in which good fellowship, discipline and fair play are fostered. . . . Good luck, fair sailing and lots of adventure on the sea of life."

BIG DAY

Mrs. Dufour, standing with Admiral Rayner on the reviewing stand, said:

"This is probably one of the most important days of your lives—the first time colors have been presented to both our cadet corps by a top executive of the Royal Canadian Navy."

Job Insurance Requested For All Public Employees

Resolutions on a wide range of subjects from unemployment insurance to nuclear disarmament were passed during the weekend at the annual convention at Courtenay of the National Union of Public Employees, B.C. division.

The 130 delegates urged that all public employees, whether considered permanent or not, should be covered by unemployment insurance.

They also called for amendment of the Unemployment Insurance Act to provide for penalty contributions from employers unnecessarily causing unemployment and elimination of a provision preventing laid-off workers from drawing benefits until their holiday credits are expired.

Another resolution sought amendment of the minimum wages and hours of work legislation to bring municipal employees under its provisions.

DRUG PROBE

Resolutions on matters of general public interest included one urging that Canada press for a policy of world disarmament and an end to nuclear tests and another calling for investigation of the drug industry with a view to placing it under government control.

The conference also urged that retirement age for women be raised to 65 and that Workmen's Compensation Board widows' pensions and war disability pensions be increased to meet living costs.

MONTE ROBERTS

Don't look now, but the London Look is infiltrating the environs of Victoria.

I do not know this from personal observation, being much too old to observe the exposure of female underpinnings which (I am told) is the basic concept of the London Look.

But from what my spies tell me, every day more and more young members of the opposing sex are appearing in skirts which are ending farther and farther above the ground.

If this is true, then Something Should be Done. Mind you, I have no parochial reason to object to the invasion of Victoria by the London Look. After all, what more appropriate place for the London Look to burgeon than in this Little Bit of Old England.

And I can see no aesthetic reason to ban the London Look in this area.

As far as I can recall from the dim, distant past (before I became too old to observe such phenomena) the females of this area need now to no one in the matter of aesthetically appealing underpinnings.

This, in fact, is the main reason I am convinced Something Should be Done.

There are too many men in this area who are still young enough to observe such phenomena as the London Look.

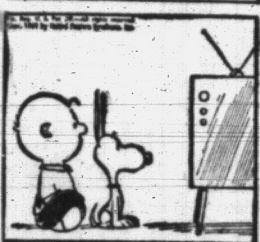

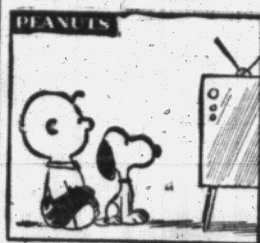

And most of these men are also drivers of automobiles.

From what I have heard about the London Look (from hearsay only, of course) it is apt to distract an observant young man even on a foggy day in London town.

What it might do to observant young men automobile drivers on a windy day in Victoria boggles the imagination, and could only be of benefit to the body and fender repair shops.

Thus Something Should be Done, although I am not certain just what.

WHENEVER A SHOW COMES ON ABOUT HUNTING, I LEAVE!

Q. Will you please tell me the names of the members of the B.C. Horse Racing Commission?

A. Glen MacDonald, chairman; Alan McGavin, commissioner; Ken McConnell, secretary with powers of commissioner.

Algeria Rebels Agree To Cease-Fire Talks

... to lead delegation

A communique issued by the rebel Algerian provisional government said Premier Ferhat Abbas personally would lead a peace delegation to Paris.

The statement, replying to a peace appeal issued by de Gaulle last week, stressed the rebels still were dissatisfied with certain aspects of his pledge of self-determination for Algeria.

Nevertheless, the positive reply appeared to spell the first major break in a war that numerous times has left France tottering on the edge of political, economic and social collapse.

In Paris, official sources said de Gaulle had been informed beforehand of the contents of the rebel reply and considered it "not negative." It currently is under study, the sources said.

SEND REPRESENTATIVE

The rebel group (FLN) did not indicate when the delegation would leave for Paris, but said it would send a representative there beforehand to arrange the details.

The acceptance was certain to touch off a strong reaction among French right-wing extremists, who fear that any reconciliation between de Gaulle and the rebels will end in losing Algeria to the control of the Moslem majority.

These factions, led by former Gaullist minister Jacques Soustelle, were meeting at Vincennes, France, today on their Continued on Page 7

U.K. Hails Decision

LONDON (AP)—Britain today officially hailed the decision of the Algerian rebel leadership to accept President de Gaulle's offer of ceasefire talks.

The foreign office also reaffirmed Britain's backing of de Gaulle's September, 1959, principles for an Algerian settlement based on self-determination.

Up to this morning, Abbas himself under pressure from extremists with the FLN—had refused de Gaulle's overtures on grounds they would add up to a rebel "surrender."

'Colonial Terror' Charged

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (Reuters)—Portugal was accused at today's session of the conference of independent African states of carrying out in its African colonies "a reign of terror, wholesale massacres and slavery unchanged from ancient times."

Jose Gilmore, delegate of the Union of Populations in Portuguese Angola, called on the conference to examine Portuguese colonialism. He accused Portuguese officials of fostering forced labor in its most brutal form.

"Semi-official statistics for 1957 put the number of workers at 700,000, including men, women and children from seven to 70 years," he said. He described Portuguese colonialism as "Fascism in its most exacerbated form" and "the most inhuman type of racialism."

'Careful Study Given to Mall'

By JOHN MIKA

The View Street mall and car park project has had the most careful planning he has ever seen, Mayor Percy Scurrell said today.

He made the statement in a point-by-point reply to charges by ex-alderman Robert Macmillan Saturday that the project was "badly organized, badly timed and ill advised."

Answered the mayor:

"On the contrary, in my long business experience I have never known a project to be so well thought out and carefully planned. And it is not the thinking of any one person."

"The plan is the result of a most careful study by our engineering department, the town planning commission, Dr. D. Jackson Faustman of Sacramento, who made our traffic survey, and Gordon Whitnall, recognized as one of the outstanding authorities on town planning in North America."

MOST CONGESTED

Mayor Scurrell said traffic counts showed the View Street area to be the most congested by foot and vehicular traffic. Details of the plan have been publicized several times and ratepayers already have approved it once, he said.

"To have a temporary mall (as done in Ottawa) without providing the necessary off-street parking will only create more parking problems than we have at the present time."

Mayor Scurrell said the 400-car parking garage under construction for the T. Eaton Co. department store will help but will not by itself solve the problem because traffic surveys have shown "there is a need in that immediate area for 1,000 cars."

SPECIAL SURVEY

He said the sum proposed for purchase of property on View for the proposed development was estimated by the Victoria Real Estate Board in a special survey for the city.

"Some of the owners' livelihoods depend upon the rents from those properties and it is absurd to expect them to give the properties to the city without compensation."

B.C. MAKES BID FOR GRID TEAM IN U.S. LEAGUE

Application Filed With AFL

VANCOUVER (CP)—A group of Vancouver businessmen, headed by a young investment dealer, today announced they have filed application with the American Football League for a franchise. If accepted, the team would join the AFL in time for the 1961 season.

Peter W. M. Graham, 35-year-old president of Family Finance Corporation and Vancouver Vending Services, Limited, and son of financier F. Ronald Graham, said the application has been filed with Lamar Hunt, of Dallas, Texas, president of the AFL.

Graham, who would not name other members of the group, said the application will be considered by the infant AFL group at its next meeting in July. A $125,000 performance bond was filed with the application to guarantee that the club will complete its first year in the league.

He added that the team would play its home games at Empire Stadium, now home of the British Columbia Lions.

DISCUSSED FULLY

Graham said he talked over Vancouver's entry into the AFL last month with Hunt, at Edmonton, and in numerous telephone conversations.

"The AFL is definitely interested in expanding here," Graham added. "The AFL is after all West Coast sites because they feel that the growth of the United States will be on the west coast."

"They like Vancouver because, first it is a good football town, second it falls into their pattern of expansion on the west coast, third it has good weather, and fourth a large enough stadium is available for home games."

Graham said he doubted B.C. Lions will be able to stand the competition from a Vancouver-based AFL club.

"I don't know myself whether they will stand up and fight or silently steal away."

"The $64 question is fan reaction. But this is a percentage gamble. The AFL takes the stand that if we are willing to gamble our money they'll be willing to offer the franchise."

FULL U.S. ROSTER

Graham suggested the club would be comprised entirely of American players. He said there was a wealth of talent available, with thousands of players graduating from U.S. colleges each year.

Herb Capozzi, general manager of the Lions, said he doubted an AFL team could lease Empire Stadium for their games.

"We now are negotiating with the Pacific National Exhibition for a long-term contract which would give us use of the stadium for a minimum of three and a maximum of 10 years."

He added that the stadium could not support two teams because the facilities would be over-taxed.

Capozzi also doubted whether Canadian fans would support an AFL team.

Auto Tariff Sought

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated today the Canadian automobile industry has asked the government to impose tariffs on British car imports.

GORGE VALE'S Mrs. Shirley Naysmith was virtually assured of medal honors in the annual B.C. ladies' close golf tournament today, finishing the qualifying round with a two-over-par 78 at Uplands Golf Club. Mrs. Naysmith had a five-stroke margin over her nearest rival as almost all of the better regarded competitors were among the early finishers.

Margaree Saves Drifting Fishboat

A predawn rescue mission was successfully completed by the destroyer escort HMCS Margaree today, resulting in the ship returning to Esquimalt nearly two hours later than scheduled.

Returning from exercises, the Margaree took under tow the disabled commercial fishing vessel Yankee Boy of Tacoma, about five miles north-west of the Swiftsure lightship off Cape Flattery.

Aboard were the owners of the vessel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Harris, of Tacoma. Their engine failed Sunday evening and they had been drifting helplessly in heavy seas for almost 12 hours.

With a flashing light, they had attempted to attract the attention of two passing merchant ships during the night. They also tried unsuccessfully to get the attention of the Swiftsure lightship.

At approximately 5 a.m. today the drifting fishboat was sighted by AB-N. Wivchar on lookout duty aboard the Margaree.

Despite heavy seas, lashed by a 25-knot wind, and with

'We Won't Waste Aid' Koreans Promise Ike

SEOUL (AP)—President Eisenhower left South Korea for Honolulu tonight, completing a Far Eastern tour cut short by rioting in Japan.

Eisenhower left with a pledge from South Korea's reform government to guard against wasting the hundreds of millions of dollars in aid the United States pours in each year.

"I pledge that we will do everything possible to ensure that American aid funds are wisely, efficiently and honestly used for the benefit of all of the Korean people," Premier Huh Chung declared in his parting words to Eisenhower at Seoul International airport.

The only anti-American demonstration Eisenhower actually saw was on Okinawa, Sunday.

SNAKE DANCE

Snake dancing Okinawans chanted "Go home, go home" and waved Japanese flags during his two-hour visit.

They carried placards reading "You were never invited here." "United States imperialism get out of Japan without delay" and "Do away with hydrogen bombs."

The demonstrators were part of a movement that favors return of the Ryukyu Islands, of which Okinawa is the main one, to Japan.

Eisenhower urged leaders of the new South Korean government to make the most of their opportunity to give the Communist-threatened land true democracy. Referring to the revolt against Syngman Rhee, he said "prompt and judicious fulfillment of the recently expressed wishes of the Korean people is a momentous challenge."

Eisenhower is expected to spend three or four days in Hawaii before continuing home to Washington.

Her Majesty's Subjects Not Amused by Ike's Goof

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times reports there were several frosty moments at the White House dinner for Prime Minister Diefenbaker when he was visiting President Eisenhower earlier this month.

Under a stock heading "Random Notes in Washington," a weekly collection of stories in lighter vein from the capital, The Times reveals:

"When the dinner was being arranged, the Canadians hoped that some of their more distinguished citizens would be invited. They were told, however, that this was the president's evening to entertain members of the National Presbyterian Church, which he attends when in Washington."

"Mr. Diefenbaker, a Baptist, thus found himself surrounded most of the evening by deserving Presbyterians. "More serious, was a slip by President Eisenhower. In giving the toast to Queen Elizabeth, the president referred to the 'republic of Canada.' He repeated the error in a second reference."

"Her Majesty's subjects from the Dominion of Canada were not amused."
